EXPERIENCE

Mr. Burns is a building consultant with 30 plus years of experience in the construction, public works, and restoration industries. Mr. Burns is very qualified and skilled at estimating cost and time durations for project completion. Mr. Burns' construction experience started at a young age when he worked for the family's construction business, later becoming a partner in that firm. Mr. Burns' experience grew from there as he went onto management of many large commercial projects for some of the region's leading contractors as a superintendent and project manager.

Following leaving the commercial construction Industry Mr. Burns' entered the water mitigation and restoration fields. Borrowing from his experience as a commercial contractor he continued to work on large mitigation and restoration projects in the years leading up to his joining the RMC Group. Mr. Burns' experience owning his own restoration business has given him the experience and insight to approach projects involving water mitigation, smoke and fire restoration with a unique results-oriented perspective.
