EXPERIENCE

Jim has a broad background of insurance and construction related experience. He has worked as an adjuster, reinspector, trainer, and manager on residential and commercial claims. His experience involves both staff and catastrophe related claims, handling losses from hurricanes, floods, fires, hailstorms, and earthquakes. Jim possesses outstanding presentation skills which is a positive influence regarding industry related negotiations.

His thirty plus years within the insurance industry has given him expertise in roofing inspections, damage identification, mitigation and drying, dispute resolution, estimatics, estimate review and analytics. Jim's experience owning a custom home building company gives him the experience needed to understand construction management and how it related to insurance losses. He has been responsible for multi-million-dollar property claims and high end residential construction projects.
