EXPERIENCE

Will has over 15 years of experience in commercial and residential restoration with business development, project management, and owning his own restoration company. He has experience overseeing all phases of insurance claims for mitigation and reconstruction of damages caused by water, fire, wind, and mold. This experience has allowed him to gain valuable knowledge and insight into various projects' restoration and repair processes.

Will has provided expert claim services across many industries, including commercial, retail, residential, and hospitality, offering loss support for water removal, extraction, drying, dehumidification, cleaning, sanitization, and construction repair. Working as a building consultant with the RMC Group, Will is responsible for consulting on a unique range of losses. His specialties include assessing and itemizing damages, developing preliminary reports, detailed repair estimates, and negotiation of reconstruction scopes.
