A MESSAGE FROM OUR PRESIDENT

Home is why – literally. Why do you: celebrate your town's bicentennial? Volunteer to water your main street's hanging flower baskets? Raise money to purchase youth sports equipment and new welcome signs at your town's entrances? Hang banners of your town's veterans? Return to the same place after every vacation? Because it's your home, your identity, your community, and you want to nurture it and see it prosper and thrive.

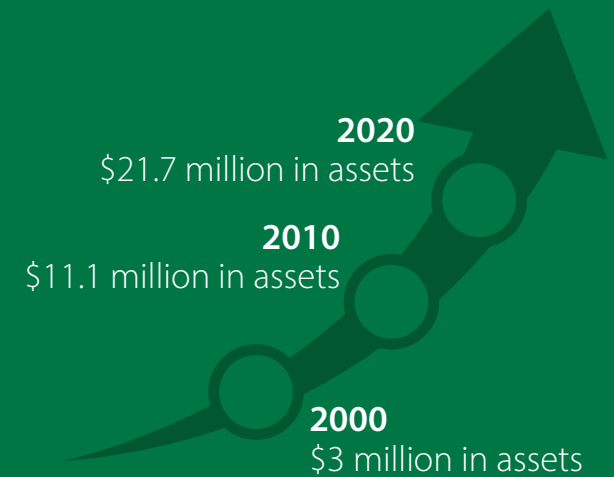

Then why do so many of us see an allure in leaving? In my own case, and sometimes just because of that allure, I left Crawford County and moved a total of eight times before STILL ending up right back in Crestline. In The Case for Moving Back to Your Hometown, Rainesford Stauffer explains, "I saw moving somewhere new as a certain kind of success in growing up." Similarly, author Melody Warnick points out that there is a stigma in America not only against small towns, but in staying in the same place at all. On the other hand, I've seen plenty of "stationary" people boast on their professional profiles that they were "born and raised in Hometown, USA" as if it were an accomplishment to stay put, or maybe their mother's accomplishment to have had the good fortune to birth them there. For me, I agree with Stauffer's point that "...sometimes, we find ourselves and means of moving forward by going back." Or as she so eloquently said in another way, "It's okay to outgrow the life you thought you wanted."

So what about that stigma against small towns? An organization called SaveYour.Town conducted a survey of rural challenges in 2015, 2017, 2019, and 2021. These surveyors feel that what media, policy makers and service providers tell us are the biggest challenges for rural communities - typically poverty, drugs, and crime - are misleading at best and serve to fuel the negative small town stereotypes. Instead, the rural respondents answering their surveys consistently cited their number one concern for their small towns as being attitudes – attitudes that resist change, resist new ideas and resist moving forward and thus ultimately hinder progress. Now think about it – is that REALLY surprising? How long has Crawford County been citing our community's letterman jacket mentality as holding us back? How long have we been complaining about wasted resources with all our duplication of services? Think about how few local organizations you can list whose titles begin with "The Crawford County _____," but how many you can list whose titles begin with "The Bucyrus _____" and "The Galion _____." We've all heard the saying, "There's no 'I' in team." I would add that there's both a "u" and an "I" in "community." That's right – you and I - only through working together, sharing, collaborating, and releasing our vice grip on resistance to change will we see the improvements for which we yearn.

In 2013, we made the decision to officially change our name to The Community Foundation for Crawford County to accurately reflect that we are here to serve the entire county – all-encompassing without bias, preferences or favoritism for any one part of our community over another. Notice the name even says "for" Crawford County as opposed to "of." More recently, as you will notice in this report, we have embraced change again and implemented a new logo and tag line. Whether you never left, left and returned, came here from somewhere else, or moved and still live elsewhere, we've all "come home" in some fashion to Crawford County. We all share our community's roots, its strengths, its challenges. We all have a human need for our community. Only we can save our community, because like the surveyors at SaveYour.Town remind us, "...no one is coming to do it for you." We hope you enjoy this annual gratitude report/calendar and feel a sense of pride in both your local community foundation's accomplishments AND Crawford County's inspiring residents. Home is Why.

Regards,
Lisa Workman, CFRE
President

-OHIO SUPREME COURT CHIEF JUSTICE THADDEUS ARMSTRONG MINSHALL ON THE CASE BROUGHT ON BY FRANK S. MONNETT AGAINST STANDARD OIL TRUST”

Notable Crawford Countian – Frank S. Monnett was a graduate of Bucyrus High School and Ohio Wesleyan University, earning his Juris Doctorate from the National Law School (Washington DC) in 1882. As Ohio Attorney General from 1896-1900, he pursued the first major victories that eventually led to the permanent break-up of Standard Oil Trust. Founded by Ohio businessman John D. Rockefeller, Standard Oil Trust at one time controlled nearly 90% of the country's oil production. Monnett also co-authored anti-trust legislation, helping spur Ohio's early leadership role in attacking corrupt business practices.

Reading and Reaping Philanthropy - Andrew Carnegie was a Scottish immigrant who made his fortune in the steel industry. One of the richest Americans in history, he gave away nearly 90% of his fortune. Fortunately, his philanthropy included an emphasis on giving to libraries like the Bucyrus and Galion Public Libraries. Fun fact: the Galion and Mansfield Richland County Public Libraries were designed by the same architect and thus bear a close resemblance.

Stewards of the Land – Jim and Janet Pry have planted more than 40,000 trees since buying 100 acres of forest that had just been commercially clear-cut in 1976. Located on Remlinger Road, the tree farm is a living testament to the values of conservation and land stewardship. The forest also helps filter pollutants that would otherwise enter the Sandusky River, and eventually Lake Erie. Jim was named Ohio Tree Farmer of the Year in 2007, and the family has also been recognized by The Ohio Woodland Journal and the Farm and Dairy Newspaper.

Bending to Old Man Winter – Even though spring was in bloom, a final blast of cold and snow came through Crawford County in April 2020. These tulips in Bill's yard were only temporarily weighted, as the snow soon melted and the tulips rebounded in the warm sun. Bill's home garden and community service embody the Foundation's new tag line – Home is Why! This tiptoe through the tulips won Bill the 2022 calendar photo contest!

Bunnies Baby! A mother rabbit decided to have her babies in a wave of petunias at Hannah's house in Bucyrus. In 2018, Hannah was a recipient of a Foundation scholarship award. She currently attends North Central State College with plans after graduation to enroll at Franklin University, studying business management and marketing. Hannah has also started her own photography business, and we wish her all the best!

Monarch Migration – Because they cannot survive long, cold winters, Monarch butterflies will fly south to forests high in the mountains of Mexico during the fall. Monarchs of North America travel further than any other butterflies in the world – up to 3,000 miles. Look for a chance to capture and tag a Monarch this fall at Buckeye Central's Outdoor Learning Lab – a project funded in part by the Foundation! Fred captured this monarch pollinating flowers in his yard when he lived on Holmes Center Road in Bucyrus.

Boom Over Baker 47 – This July 4th celebration photo was taken by Carolyn while enjoying the festivities at the KOA campground on Baker 47. Although fireworks started as a Chinese invention some 2,000 years ago, they've been an American tradition since the founding of our nation. Crawford Countians have more than one display to choose from each year, and many include sound elements which make for whistles and blasts.

To “Bee” a Sunflower – The name sunflower comes from the Greek helios “sun” and anthos “flower.” Sunflowers got their name because the plants tilt to face the sun to gain more light for photosynthesis. This little bee was collecting his nectar from a sunflower at Pickwick Place.

Hannah shot this ear at her grandparents' property, Mel-n-Joy Farms in Sulphur Springs. Ohio is the 7th leading producer of corn in the U.S., and 96% of the farms in Crawford County are family farms. Organic Farming – The Paynter Family Organic Farm has been organic since 1996 and consists of roughly 300 acres of peaceful farmland scattered across Crawford County. To help ensure the successful production of organic grains and animals, the family is also involved with many conservation efforts like the Soil and Water Conservation District (SWCD). The red clover in this field is cut and baled to feed cattle during the winter, and then the beef products are sold locally at Crawford County farmers' markets.

Snow Plan? Snow Man! The Preschool children at Fairway School built this pandemic snowman. Part of the Crawford County Board of Developmental Disabilities, Fairway School offers individualized services for their students, including occupational, physical and speech therapies. The slogan the children adopted during disability month declared, "Acceptance begins with a smile!"

COMMUNITY LEGACY

Thank you to the following contributors that have arranged a planned gift to the Foundation. A planned gift is a contribution that a person decides to give at some future date, either a number of years from now or at death. There are many kinds of planned gifts, including but not limited to: bequests in a will, a trust, or an estate plan; charitable gift annuities; retirement funds; charitable remainder trusts; life estate contracts; charitable lead trusts; pooled income funds; life insurance; and non-cash assets and assets transferred using pay-on-death or transfer-on-death documents.
