FROM THE PRINCIPAL . . .

Q) How do we know that Jesus existed as a human?

A) He died a real death

Our theme for the year focuses on the idea that we need to be prepared to answer the questions for the reason for the hope that we have. There are questions that non-Christians have of Christians in relation to our faith. Throughout the year we will focus on answers to these questions through a lens on the central figure to our faith – Jesus Christ.

The Crucifixion of Jesus Christ is a critical component to the faith of those who follow Him. This event must have taken place for the fundamental and most important event of our faith – the Resurrection – to occur. Jesus must have died. So how do we know with confidence that Jesus was killed?

The Scriptures record the event in all four Gospels. A substantial portion of each Gospel is devoted to the final week of Jesus life. This not only reflects the importance of this event, but also outlines a number of supporting details. They clearly show that Jesus Christ suffered and died. If Jesus was not human, death in this world would be impossible. His death did happen and has been recorded clearly by the witnesses of that event.

But when they came to Jesus and saw that He was already dead, they did not break his legs. But one of the soldiers pierced His side with a spear, and at once there came out blood and water. He who saw it has borne witness – this testimony is true, and he knows that he is telling the truth – that you may also believe. (John 19:33-35)

But the accounts of Scripture are not the only evidence for the death of Jesus Christ. Others, who weren't believers in Jesus, also recorded this event in history. Tacitus, the first century Roman historian, references the death of Jesus in his writings. Josephus, another first century historian of the Jewish faith, records Jesus' trial, persecution, and death.

There is substantial evidence that points to the physical and earthly death of Jesus of Nazareth. His death narrative is an important piece of historical evidence, but an even greater spiritual reality. It is in His death, in the shedding of His blood, that we have received forgiveness. We no longer live under the penalty of our own sin, but instead, in faith, have been granted grace through this sacrifice. His death means life for us.

May we always be prepared to give an answer for reason for our hope (1 Peter 3:15).

Dress Code

- Please review the dress code in the Student Handbook
