

RESOURCE METHODOLOGY CASE STUDY:

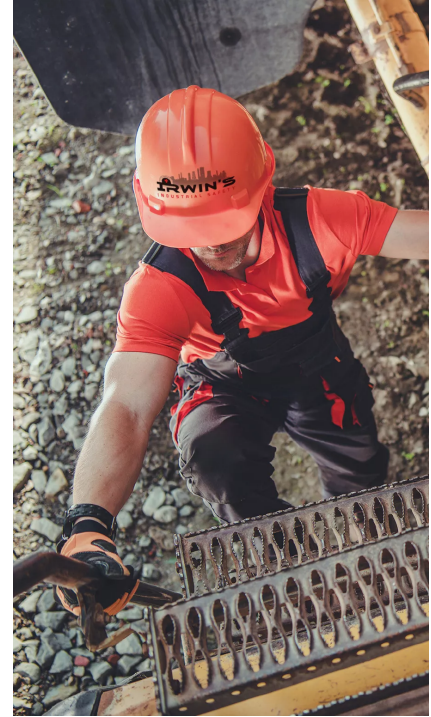

Specialized Resource Deployment On Short Notice

The Situation:

We were asked by a remote client to provide a 6-person ERT Team with specialized provincial training, while they arranged to have members of their internal staff trained. To respond to this, we contacted the regulating authority, achieved a variance allowing for course equivalencies, and delivered the 6-person team to the remote site, along with a truckload of specialized equipment.

The Timeline:

Call received Friday afternoon after government working hours.
Regulating authority approval Tuesday at noon. Mobilize to remote site Wednesday. Work begins Thursday, 0630.

Total Turnaround Time = <6 calendar days

The icing on the cake:

The lead we sent is an experienced instructor and delivered the training at no additional cost.
