I've just seen a preview of PRAY: THE STORY OF PATRICK PEYTON, and I can't wait for you to see it when it comes to theaters the weekend of Oct. 9. I knew the phrase, "The Family That Prays Together Stays Together," but until now, I never really knew the man behind it: a poor Irish immigrant who went to Hollywood and then around the world to promote family prayer and the Rosary. He worked with the biggest stars and held huge Rosary rallies, but he remained a humble Irish priest, in love with Our Lady. You'll be uplifted, inspired and amazed! I've just previewed PRAY: THE STORY OF PATRICK PEYTON, the true tale of the man behind the phrase, "The Family That Prays Together Stays Together," hitting theaters the weekend of Oct. 9. He was a poor Irish immigrant who came to America to get rich. Instead, after Our Lady saved his life, he dedicated the rest of his days to promoting her prayer, the Rosary, and all family prayer. Helped by the biggest stars in Hollywood, he used mass media, while also circling the globe with huge Rosary rallies. I know you'll be as moved as I was by Father Peyton's passion and the power of prayer. Get info on theaters and tickets at PrayThe Film.com.
