

BULLETPROOF

VIRTUAL CHIEF INFORMATION SECURITY OFFICER

(vCISO) SERVICE

ON-DEMAND ACCESS

TO EXPERT SECURITY TALENT AND SENIOR-LEVEL DIRECTION

The world is ever-changing, and today's IT teams—regardless of size—face more demands than ever before, often resulting in security gaps that can leave you vulnerable. Companies need senior-level direction and a proper security program in place, however, small and medium-sized businesses, who are already trying to manage their increasing cybersecurity budgets, are not always equipped to hire a dedicated, onsite CISO.

Bulletproof's vCISO managed service allows your organization to access expert talent immediately, while mitigating risks. Our vCISOs will help you quickly assess your current state, clearly articulate your risks and vulnerabilities, and recommend a strategic path forward to optimize your security posture.

Our vCISOs will:

- Be a readily available expert security resource saving you time and money
- Oversee your security programs to ensure they are strategic and compliant
- Define security strategy and goals to mitigate risks
- Define and oversee security and compliance governance
- Help define security budgets and most appropriate security solutions
- Provide advisory input during executive meetings and board meetings
