

IMMI Recalls Harnesses Made for Polaris, Can-Am, and Kawasaki UTVs Due to Injury Hazard

Model Affected: IMMI SubZero 4-point and IMMI Click6 6-point UTV harnesses

Recall Date: September 2, 2020

Recall Number: 20-174

The recall affects about 162,000 units that were installed in Polaris Model Year 2015, 2017-2020 RZR XP1000, RZR Turbo, RZR TurboS, and RZR Pro XP UTVs. The harnesses are labeled as “Polaris,” “Can-AM,” or “Kawasaki.” These harnesses were also sold separately as aftermarket accessories as “SubZero” or “Click 6.” Several harnesses have been reported to have missing stitching at one of the multiple attachment points. No injuries have been reported.

Hazard

Missing stitching on the harness could cause it to fail to properly restrain an occupant in a crash.

Remedy

Users should immediately stop using the product until inspected by an authorized dealer. Affected harnesses will be replaced at no charge to the consumer.
