

100% ATF
COMPLIANCE
GUARANTEE

E4473 FACT SHEET

2020 CHANGES TO ATF REGULATIONS

As of November 1, 2020, the ATF requires all FFLs to follow a new process and use new 4473 forms for all gun transactions. Here's a breakdown of what's changed and how these changes impact your current gun transaction processes and operations.

2020 ATF CHANGES

1 Must Use ATF-Approved 2020 4473 Form

- E4473 is equipped with the ATF approved 2020 4473 forms
- 4473 forms are smart and include automatic form verification and validation of every field
- E4473 has the official ATF instructions built in to provide help for customers, explaining how to complete each field

2 Firearms Must Be Identified BEFORE the Purchaser Begins the 4473

- In the Bravo Pawn Point of Sale, identify which firearms are part of the transaction
- Firearm information is automatically transferred to the 2020 4473 form in E4473
- Customer completes all required fields on the 4473
- E4473 completes your FFL number and address, and any employees who participated in the NICS check are tracked and listed
- E4473 will notify FFL of incorrect or incomplete fields, and will flag of any suspicious answers for you explaining how to complete each field

3 Use of Digital Storage is Approved by the ATF

- 4473 forms can be stored digitally if digital storage solution meets ATF requirements
- E4473 is 100% compliant with ATF digital storage regulations
- FFL must apply for a Variance from the ATF to begin use of digital storage
- E4473 securely stores all 4473 forms for the required time period of 20 years
- 4473 forms can be easily retrieved for ATF audits

NEW PROCESS CHANGES WITHIN BRAVO

1 Payment is Collected at the START of the Transaction

- Based on feedback from the E4473 User Group and because of the new ATF requirement that firearms be identified prior to starting the 4473, FFLs will collect payment at the START of the transactions, rather than at the end
- If the customer decides to cancel the transaction, you can simply select Refund

CONTACT US

WEBSITE: www.e4473.com

EMAIL: hello@e4473.com