CSLA COVID-19 UPDATE

C.S. Lewis Academy is planning to teach on campus starting September 9th. While the safety of our faculty, staff and students will be paramount, it will be closely followed by our dedication to provide the outstanding, quality education for which we are known.

The ODE and OHA have released their first set of guidelines which will be adjusted through the summer. We have reviewed those guidelines and see CSLA as uniquely positioned to follow the regulations and recommendations while still offering full on campus classes. We will have additional information as the fall approaches.

During the spring we were a leader in teacher-led at-home learning. Our faculty started early on and maintained a commendable dedication to being flexible and creative with the goal of moving each class and each student forward.

Nonetheless, there is no substitute for hands-on, in-person, CSLA-style teaching and learning, and we are excited to get back to doing what we do best.
