Purpose of policy

PEG recognises the responsibility it has regarding safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children and young people as set out in the following legislation and guidance.

- The Children Act 1989 specifically Section 17 – provision of services for children in need – and Section 47 – local authority duty to investigate
- Section 16, Sexual Offences Act 2003
- The Children Act 2004 – creation of Local Safeguarding Children Boards, Working Together and information sharing
- The Equality Act 2010
- What to do if you're worried a child is being abused 2015
- Working Together to Safeguard Children 2018
- Keeping Children Safe in Education, 2021 (KCSIE, 2021)
- The Data Protection Act, 2018
- The General Data Protection Regulations 2018
- Child Protection in Sport Unit \(CPSU\) standards for safeguarding and protecting children in sport

This policy and associated documents set out how the organisation will meet these responsibilities and give clear direction to staff, volunteers, visitors and parents about the expected behaviour and our legal responsibility to safeguard and promote the welfare of all children and young people at our organisation.

All staff have an important role to play in noticing indicators of possible abuse or neglect through their contact with children. It is important that all staff know what to do if they have any concerns. Staff will create and maintain an ethos where children are encouraged to talk and are listened to. They will have an awareness of the indicators of abuse and always take any concerns seriously.

Policy statement

PEG has a statutory responsibility to safeguard and promote the welfare of all children and young people. This is defined<sup>2</sup> as:

- protecting children from maltreatment
- preventing impairment of children's mental and physical health or development
- ensuring that children grow up in circumstances consistent with the provision of safe and effective care
- taking action to enable all children to have the best outcomes

All children, regardless of age, disability, gender reassignment, race, religion or belief, sex, or sexual orientation has an equal right to protection from all types of harm or abuse. Types of abuse are explained in paragraphs 22-26 of Part 1 of KCSIE 2021. Some children are additionally vulnerable because of the impact of previous experiences, their level of dependency, communication needs or other issues.

We recognise that safeguarding is the responsibility of everyone who works with children and that they are an important part of the wider safeguarding system. PEG has an essential role to play to make children and young people feel safe and secure.

PEG believes that everyone involved in working with children and vulnerable adults has a responsibility to promote the welfare of all children and young people, to keep them safe and to practise in a way that protects them.

Some children are additionally vulnerable because of the impact of previous experiences, their level of dependency, communication needs or other issues which may or may not be linked to a protected characteristic.

We will do this by:

- Ensuring all staff hold an up-to-date safeguarding qualification
- All staff have a full DBS check conducted through Premier head office
- Share all policies and procedures with all who work on behalf of the organisation
- Ensure all personnel have attended prevent training
- Reporting concerns to the authorities
- Carefully following procedures for recruitment and selection of staff
- Provide effective updates for all staff, ensuring training is renewed and refreshed as appropriate
- Appoint a nominated Designated Safeguarding Officer(s) to take lead responsibility for the successful implementation of this policy
- ensuring children, young people, vulnerable adults and their families know about our safeguarding policy and what to do if they have a concern
- building a safeguarding culture where staff, volunteers and children know how they are expected to behave and feel comfortable about sharing concerns.

Our ethos

PEG will establish and maintain an ethos where our children feel secure, are encouraged to talk, are listened to and are safe. Children will be able to talk freely to any member of staff, volunteer or regular visitor to our organisation if they are worried or concerned about something. Children will be able to talk freely to any member of staff, volunteer or regular visitor to our organisation if they are worried or concerned about something.

All staff, volunteers and regular visitors will, either through training or induction, know how to recognise a disclosure from a child and will know how to manage this. We will not make promises to any child and we will not keep secrets.

Every child will know what the adult will do with whatever they have been told. We will provide activities and opportunities that will equip our children with the skills they need to stay safe.

At all times we will work in partnership and try to establish effective working relationships with parents, carers and colleagues from other agencies and organisations.

Key principles:

- Always see the child first
- Never do nothing
- Do with, not to, others
- Do the simple things better
- Have conversations, build relationships
- Outcomes not outputs

PEG will ensure an appropriate level of safeguarding training is available to its trustees, employees, volunteers and any relevant persons linked to the organisation who requires it (e.g. contractors).

For all employees who are working or volunteering with children, this requires them as a minimum to have awareness training that enables them to:

- Understand what safeguarding is and their role in safeguarding children.
- Recognise a child potentially in need of safeguarding and take action.
- Understand how to report a safeguarding alert.
- Understand dignity and respect when working with children.
- Have knowledge of the Safeguarding Children Policy.

Some organisations in England, Scotland and Wales have a duty, as a specified authority under section 26 of the Counterterrorism and Security Act 2015, to identify vulnerable children and young people and prevent them from being drawn into terrorism. This is known as the Prevent duty. These organisations include:

- Schools
- Registered childcare providers
- Local authorities
- Police
- Prisons and probation services
- NHS trusts and foundations.
- Other organisations may also have Prevent duties if they perform delegated local authority functions.

Children can be exposed to different views and receive information from various sources. Some of these views may be considered radical or extreme.

Radicalisation is the process through which a person comes to support or be involved in extremist ideologies. It can result in a person becoming drawn into terrorism and is in itself a form of harm.

Extremism is vocal or active opposition to fundamental British values, including democracy, the rule of law, individual liberty and mutual respect and tolerance of different faiths and beliefs.

Key risks

The ultimate key risk is that PEG fails in its duty to keep children and young people safe whilst they are in our care. Policies of subsidiary businesses are crucial in this regard.

The second key risk is that we do not effectively and efficiently respond to children and young people's safeguarding concerns and this policy aims to mitigate that risk.

PEG may miss opportunities to win contracts to deliver its services or to engage in strategic partnerships if it does not take adequate measures to safeguard the children and young people while in our care.

PEG's reputation may suffer if seen to be lacking in any aspect of safeguarding and protecting the welfare of young people.

Applicability

This policy applies to all PEG employees whether full- or part-time, on permanent or fixed-term contracts, and also to associated persons such as directors, contractors, secondees, agency staff and volunteers.

Subsidiary businesses that provide services requiring direct contact with children have their own safeguarding policies that should be read in conjunction with this one.

Franchises working under the Premier Education brand are separate businesses with a responsibility to have their own policies, including for safeguarding. As part of PEG's quality assurance and compliance checks, franchise businesses are audited to ensure that this is the case.

Responsibilities

The board of PEG have the responsibility that safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children and young people is addressed at the very highest level and that our responsibility to meet good practice and legal obligations is addressed across all of our work.

This legislation and guidance includes, but is not limited to that listed above.

PEG has appointed multiple Designated Safeguarding Officers (DSOs) who are responsible for dealing with any concerns about the protection of children locally within their area of work. The Lead DSO is supported by an external safeguarding consultant who provides technical advice and guidance to ensure that PEG is meeting all statutory obligations and follows good practice.

The Lead DSO chairs the PEG Safeguarding Committee which comprises representatives from across the organisation including subsidiary businesses and corporate service departments. The safeguarding committee is responsible for reviewing and evaluating current safeguarding practice across the organisation and ensuring that the ethos/culture of safeguarding is fully embedded across PEG. The external consultant attends the monthly meetings to provide updates and advice on technical matters.
