Tammy Williams is a Consulting Executive at HoganTaylor. She has nearly 20 years of corporate accounting experience. She has served as a Corporate Controller for a $100MM public company responsible for preparation of internal financial statements and management reports, preparation of SEC filings, administration of customized corporate commission and incentive compensation plans, administration and maximization of vendor incentive plans, and for conducting buy-side due diligence. Prior to joining HoganTaylor, Tammy co-founded a CFO-consulting practice and provided corporate controller services to small and mid-sized companies. Tammy has lead the integration of finance functions and related software systems in multiple acquisitions. She is adept at managing and synthesizing data from multiple operating systems, managing the annual financial audit and annual tax return preparation process, including preparation of auditable FAS 109 and FIN 48 analyses. She has also developed and managed the process of properly filing sales, franchise, income and annual report statements in a multi-state environment.
