“

It fills us with pride to see our wall of logos growing each day and seeing that important clients around the world drive us to continue innovating.

But without Sensediars, essential pieces in this trajectory of success and that do their best on a daily basis, none of this would be possible.

With our growth we need to continue with innovations, but we also gained the responsibility to conduct our businesses in an increasingly transparent and ethical way, applying good practices to the highest market standards.

Therefore, we are publishing Sensedia's Code of Ethics and Conduct, which brings together our values and serves as a basis for all of our employees to make their decisions.
