

by GenAlpha Technologies

A Digital Sales Strategy is a Requirement

Offering an eCommerce sales channel is essential, but manufacturers and dealers must manage the evolved buying relationship together. The time for considering an eCommerce sales channel has passed, manufacturers need to take action now, in order to ensure their success in the future.

Want to learn more?

Download Our Free eBook

GenAlpha Technologies Latest Blog Posts

September 2nd, 2020

Evaluating Knowledge of eCommerce Audience

Target market and existing customer base are the important criteria to evaluate when determining a manufacturers knowledge of their eCommerce audience... Read more

September 1st, 2020

You Need eCommerce, Now What?

If you are grappling with this question, you are not alone. We've met successful manufacturers and dealers over the years who are exactly where you are... Read more

August 24th, 2020

Evaluating Your Sales Operations Management Strategy

B2B eCommerce requires an organized sales structure that can manage each step of the selling process... Read more

August 11th, 2020

Equip Search by Description Demo by Kris Harrington

Learn how to provide your customers with a rich online experience with this Equip Search by Description Demo... Read more

We're ready to show you how Equip increases parts sales through a simplified ordering process, expanded market reach, and 24/7 order capture availability.

Request an Equip Demo Today

Related Articles

Succeeding in B2B eCommerce, From Start to Finish

In order for businesses to be successful digitally, several departments need a paradigm shift to occur. In a recent Adobe webinar, it was talked about what B2B brands need to do to succeed in B2B eCommerce... Read more

B2B Sellers Take Page From The B2C Playbook to Grow eCommerce

B2B buying will always be a more involved process than business-to-consumer purchasing, but B2C models have successful attributes that can help B2B companies in their own digital selling strategies and initiatives... Read more

Transforming Existing Sales Channels: From Engagement to eCommerce

Today, buyers prefer to purchase through digital channels, especially for certain (simple) products and transactions (returns). Yet companies that have an established and successful in-person sales model have been reluctant to change... Read more

GenAlpha Technologies Latest News

August 21st, 2020

GenAlpha Partners with Genius ERP

GenAlpha has partnered with Genius ERP to offer their customers within manufacturing a complete eCommerce and ERP solution that is used across North America... Read more

August 10th, 2020

GenAlpha Partners with Greenwing Technology

GenAlpha has partnered with Greenwing Technology to offer their customers the ability to cover more purchasing channels for buyers including punchout catalogs... Read more

Share our newsletter with your colleagues or on social media!

