

Customized Reporting for Private Equity Firms

Looking to purchase a business or complete a merger? The Business Cycle is a key factor as you make decisions on significant capital investments for your company. The economy, your industry, and your firm are constantly moving through a business cycle.

POWER OF COMPANY FORECASTING COMBINED WITH ECONCHATS

Using our knowledge of the business cycle and unique methodology, ITR Economics can forecast a company's revenue stream with a high level of accuracy, providing exceptional decision-influencing insights. We analyze revenue history with the company's relationship to leading indicators, along with world events and secondary data, to compile an accurate and meaningful forecast.

Bring your customized report to life by scheduling an EconChat with our team. We will discuss trends within the market, drivers to a forecast, and current developments, such as tariffs or changes to interest rates, that could impact your business.
