

PARTNERSHIP PROGRAMS

ITR Economics is focused on helping the world of business grow stronger. Due to this, we find great synergy between our firm and Trade Associations around the world. To align our goals and help your member companies strengthen their strategic planning, we have developed four levels of partnership.

All four partnership tiers include immediate value-adds for your members, from discount pricing to immediate access to our data-driven approach, so they may start benefiting right away from our unique perspective on economic trends.

Unlike any other economic firm, we use a proprietary methodology that provides accurate, sustainable results. We will teach this to your members so that they, too, may begin planning with greater accuracy.

“The ITR methodology is a must learn and use for any business... I can honestly say that they helped save our business during the 2008 great Recession.”

Testimonials

"The presentation today was excellent and the two speakers were impactful. The ITR methodology is a must learn and use for any business. Keeping track of your rates of change and monthly moving averages and charting them is an excellent tool for being prepared for whatever comes your way! My first exposure to Alan and ITR was the day after Obama was elected. I can honestly say that they helped save our business during the 2008 great Duression (Depression and Recession)." - Attendee, The Goering Center Presentation
