Security Awareness Training

Security awareness training is an extremely important part of meeting your compliance needs. Compass IT Compliance now offers customizable e-learning programs and solutions to help meet your corporate data protection and security readiness requirements. Training is developed to meet your businesses needs and offered through online sessions or in a classroom environment. The courses can be set up to be mandatory or optional and can also be deployed as a one-time engagement or a scheduled recurring training. Organization leaders will be equipped with tools to monitor employee participation and scores.

We believe that training should motivate the student with engaging scenarios and active content. Courses are designed to ensure that the user remains engaged, is intellectually challenged, and receives timely feedback.

Compass IT Compliance offers training in the following areas:

Security Awareness

Privacy Awareness

HIPAA & Healthcare

GDPR Privacy Awareness

Industry-Specific Topics

Anti-Money Laundering

Sexual Harassment Prevention

Corporate Code of Conduct

Completely Customizable Programs

Our training programs are far from a one-size-fits-all solution. Programs can be customized to include company logos, colors, and imagery. We're able to offer courses online, onsite where you work, or within our classroom at our North Providence, Rhode Island headquarters. Our IT security and compliance professionals have traveled across the country to administer onsite training for clients of all sizes in all industries.

90%
90% of data breaches include a phishing element[1]

75%
Up to 75% of security incidents stem from a lack of knowledge by staff[2]

85%
Users clicking on mobile phishing links has increased by 85% since 2011[3]

Need something that isn't listed? We're happy to build a concise, targeted training program specific to your organization's needs. Recurring training programs continue to be a leading factor in establishing a culture of digital security and privacy within organizations, mitigating the risk of breaches and incidents.
