Press Release

Qumulex® Partners with Sentry Enterprises®, Offering a First-Of-Its-Kind Biometric Credentials Along with Qumulex QxControl

Fishers, Indiana, December 6, 2021 – Qumulex, makers of the cloud-based QxControl unified Video and Access Control platform, announced a new partnership with Sentry Enterprises, a U.S. based manufacturer of the SentryCard; a self-contained biometric platform designed for proof-positive identification for both physical and logical access control. With this new agreement, Qumulex offers Sentry Enterprises products directly on their pricelist and is immediately available to Qumulex partners and distributors.

By partnering with Sentry Enterprises, added Tom Buckley of Qumulex, “Qumulex can now provide their authorized resellers with a highly differentiated proof-of-identity solution for access control, without the need to rip out or replace existing infrastructure.” The SentryCard line includes the full suite of industry standard interfaces, whether HID Prox, iClass, Seos or DesFIRE EV2.

Designed from the ground up to be a unified, cloud-based, physical security solution for both video and access control, QxControl delivers a robust, easy-to-use, mobile-first experience. It is a fully unified video management and access control system that is delivered as a Progressive Web App (PWA) that runs on any device with a browser and can be deployed on-premises or in the cloud.

“We believe in Qumulex vision for unified video management and access control. Adding the SentryCard’s ‘proof-of-identity at the edge’ will further secure QxControl without impacting the end-user’s experience”, added John Calzaretta, President of Sentry Enterprises.
