ABOUT AUSTRALIA

With its spectacular natural environment and scenery, multicultural communities and friendly people, contemporary arts and culture, world-class events, seasonally stunning weather and relaxed lifestyle, Australia is a great place to visit and explore.

CULTURE

Australia is multicultural and multiracial, so you will meet people from all over the world. This diversity of influences is reflected in the food, lifestyle, events, and cultural practices and experience, and creates a dynamic, innovating and exciting environment to live in. Warm weather and plentiful sunshine facilitates a laidback outdoors lifestyle – perfect for a sport-loving nation that enjoys everything from cricket to rugby, surfing and soccer.

PEOPLE

Australia's diverse population of 23 million people is comprised of over 200 different cultures and over 260 different spoken languages, which create a rich, diverse culture. The most populous states are New South Wales and Victoria, with their respective capitals, Sydney and Melbourne, the largest cities in Australia.

WEATHER

Renowned as a sun blessed and sunburnt country, Australia experiences temperate weather for most of the year. The northern states of Australia are typically warm all the time, with the southern states experiencing cool winters but rarely sub-zero temperatures. Snow falls on the higher mountains during the winter months – great for ski-lovers!

PLACES

From dense rainforests and rugged mountains, to spectacular coastlines and endless deserts, there's something for everyone to love. Australia has 19 listed World Heritage properties – the Great Barrier Reef, Kakadu National Park - and famous landmark buildings including the Sydney Harbour Bridge and Opera House. Sydney and Melbourne are two of Australia's most exciting cities, and studying here allows you easy access to visit the rest of the country by plane or car.

HISTORY

Australia has been populated by Indigenous Australians for an estimated 60 000 years but it was not until 1770 that Captain James Cook, aboard the Endeavour, claimed it for the British Crown. The first settlers arrived in what is now known as Sydney on 26 January 1788 – what is now celebrated every year as Australia Day. Since this time, Australia's population has continued to grow and expand, creating a culturally diverse and dynamic society.

ABOUT SYDNEY

Sydney is a stunning city set on one of the world's most beautiful harbours, with beaches, tourist attractions and national parks all within easy reach of the city centre.

Sydney, the oldest city in Australia and the capital of New South Wales has a population of approximately 4.5 million people, making it also the largest city in Australia.

The cosmopolitan, multicultural, and diverse city offers more entertainment, festivals, dining options, shopping, and sightseeing than any other place in Australia. You can gather your friends and head to one of the many spectacular sandy beaches, visit the lush botanical gardens, learn to surf along the coast, pop into a local bar for delicious food and cold beer, or take a cruise around the Harbour.

There are also many great places to explore beyond Sydney either within New South Wales or interstate. Catch a bus or train to the Blue Mountains, hop on a plane to the Sunshine Coast, or pack your bags to visit the proper outback – the adventures are limitless!

Compassionate or compelling circumstances (e.g. illness where a medical certificate states that the student is unable to attend classes), or misbehaviour by the student.

Students may also have their enrolment suspended due to misbehaviour which can also be grounds for cancellation of studies.

Students have the right to appeal a decision by Greenwich Management College to defer, suspend or cancel their studies and Greenwich Management College will not notify Department of Education and Training (DET) of a change to the enrolment status until the internal complaints and appeals process is completed.

DEFERRING A TERM

Students who would like to defer their studies must first speak to the Academic Manager. An application to defer form must be completed which will need to be approved by the Academic Manager. Prior to applying to deferring their program, students must ensure that they have paid any outstanding College fees.

Deferral of studies by international students is permitted only in compassionate or compelling circumstances such as serious illness, death in the family or for some other reason such as misbehaviour by the student.

Students will be required to provide evidence of the compassionate or compelling circumstances.

FAILURE TO START COURSE

SUSPENSION DUE TO ACADEMIC MISCONDUCT

All students are expected to maintain high standards of academic honesty and integrity. Academic misconduct is defined as attempts by students to cheat, plagiarise or otherwise act dishonestly in undertaking an assessment task, or assisting other students to do so. Students are considered guilty of cheating if they seek to gain advantage by unfair means such as copying another students' work, or in any way mislead a trainer about their knowledge, ability, or the amount of original work they have produced.

ASSESSMENT TASKS

1. Students must not use another person's concepts, results or work and pass them off as their own.
2. In cases where the assessment task is intended to be individual work not group work, students must not prepare an assignment collaboratively and then submit work that is significantly the same as another student's assessment.
3. Students must not ask another person to produce an assessable piece of work for them.

NOTIFICATION AND APPEAL

1. Students will be notified in writing of penalties as a consequence of academic misconduct.
2. Appeals must be lodged in writing with the General Manager within 20 days of the date of the student being notified of the consequence.

GENERAL MISCONDUCT

Students are expected to respect other students, staff and property so that learning and teaching can take place freely and safely and without causing any harm to anyone.

General misconduct is where a student: acts dishonestly, harasses other students or staff, interferes with students or staff, prevents or disrupts learning, fails to attend and participate in classes regularly, disobeys, damages or steals College property or the property of others, alters/misuses College documents or records, prejudices the good name of Greenwich Management College, or otherwise acts in an improper manner.

Any student who falls more than one month behind in their payments will be notified that if they do not make payment within 7 days, of all outstanding amounts, they will have their enrolment cancelled on the grounds of financial misconduct.

PENALTIES

1. Penalties imposed will take into account the nature and the extent of the misconduct.
2. A student's second offence is penalised more severely than their first offence and a third offence will result in exclusion from Greenwich Management College.

ATTENDANCE MONITORING

Greenwich Management College will systematically monitor students' compliance with student visa conditions relating to attendance. Although Greenwich Management College does not report students to the Department of Home Affairs (DHA) for low or non-attendance, we do monitor and record attendance.

Student records should clearly indicate that the student is maintaining satisfactory course progress. This cannot be achieved without attendance, therefore, students are required to attend classes to be able to demonstrate competency.

ABSENCES DUE TO ILLNESS

If you cannot attend classes due to illness, it is recommended that you obtain a medical certificate. Reception will take a copy for our records however you should keep the originals in a safe place. If you cannot attend class for an extended period of time due to illness, you should contact Greenwich Management College to advise us of your situation. Please note that medical certificates will not increase your actual attendance.

RECOGNITION OF PRIOR LEARNING (RPL) AND CREDIT TRANSFER

Greenwich Management College as a Nationally Recognised Registered Training Organisation (RTO) is required under the terms of the VET Quality Framework (VQF) and the Standards for RTOs (2015) to offer Credit Transfer and Recognition of Prior Learning to its Students. Greenwich Management College recognises and accepts qualifications and Statements of Attainment issued by other registered training organisations.

CREDIT TRANSFER

Credit Transfer is the recognition of learning achieved through formal education and training. Credit Transfer allows a student to be awarded a unit of competency based on successful completion of the same unit which has been previously awarded. This means that the student does not repeat that unit or course at Greenwich Management College.

Students must apply for Credit Transfer or RPL before commencing their course. This must be done at least 21 days prior to commencement of the course. Successful RPL or Credit Transfer may mean a reduction in the student's course duration. This will shorten the student's visa and DIBP needs to be notified within 14 days from the decision.

Credit Transfer will only be awarded:

- Where the unit of competency has exactly the same code and title as that for which Credit Transfer is being sought, even if it is not from the same Training Package, the student will be granted Credit Transfer based on the unit of competency held.
- If the unit of competency has been modified and upgraded by the Training Package, it will be treated as an RPL application and not a Credit Transfer
- Where the unit of competency or course in question has been superseded, the student will be advised to seek Recognition of Prior Learning as it is not a direct Credit Transfer.
- If the unit of competency has been transferred from another Training Package/curriculum and recoded and it is necessary to map the learning outcomes from the old and new units of competency, the student will need to apply for Recognition of Prior Learning.

The Student does not incur any fee for Credit Transfer.

If credit is granted, tuition fees to the value of that subject's worth will be deducted from the total fee of the course.

APPLYING FOR CREDIT TRANSFER?

To apply for Credit Transfer, the student must submit the following documentation to Greenwich Management College:

- Credit Transfer Application Form (available on our website www.greenwichcollege.edu.au).
- Certified copies of your transcripts.

Please check that you have completed any of the same, or equivalent unit(s) of competency from prior formal learning. Ensure that you have evidence of completion of these unit(s) of competency (e.g. a Statement of Attainment).

Your application will be assessed by the Academic Manager and a decision made within 7 days of receiving your application. If any further evidence is required, the Academic Manager will contact you. Greenwich Management College will provide a record of the course credit to the student, which must be signed and accepted by the student, and will be placed in the students file.

RECOGNITION OF PRIOR LEARNING (RPL)

This is an assessment process that involves assessment of an individual's relevant prior learning (including formal, informal and non-formal learning) to determine the credit outcomes of an individual application for credit. This is obtained through learning achieved outside the formal education and training system and includes work and life experiences.

Greenwich Management College carries out an assessment on the evidence and documentation provided by the learner. This is achieved through completing the application form and forwarding it along with relevant evidence and required fees.

You will be asked to provide detailed records of your experience, employment, training, references from past employers, work samples etc. This process will also require you to conduct a self-assessment of each performance criteria in the unit of competency and provide quality evidence against it. Your assessor will then interview you and go through the evidence portfolio with you. The assessor must ensure that the evidence provided is: authentic, valid, reliable, current and sufficient.

RPL Application Form is available on our website www.greenwichcollege.edu.au

Greenwich Management College adheres to the following guidelines when an application for RPL is received:

- Applications for RPL must be submitted 21 days prior to the commencement of the course
- The student is required to pay a non- refundable application fee of $500 and an assessment fee of $250 for each unit of competency being assessed for RPL.

If an application for RPL is successful, the student's visa will be shortened and this must be reported to Department of Education via PRISMS within 14 days of approval. The student has the right to appeal the decision made by Greenwich Management College if they believe that the decision is unfair, unjust or if the evidence was misinterpreted.

ASSESSMENT PROCESS

Greenwich implements an assessment system which ensures that assessment complies with the assessment requirements of the training package and is conducted in accordance with the Principles of Assessment and the Rules of Evidence.

Assessment is the process of collecting evidence and making judgments on whether competency has been achieved. The purpose of assessment is to confirm that an individual can perform to the standard expected in the workplace, as expressed in the relevant endorsed industry or enterprise competency standards.

Some of the evidence gathering techniques that will be used to assess each unit of competency in this course are structured assessment activities such as reports, work samples, role plays, presentations, written or oral questions, practical demonstrations, portfolio, report writing etc.

All assessments include the performance objective, assessment description, procedure and specifications which is provided to the student with clear instructions on how assessments will be carried out and when.

ACCESSING AND SUBMITTING ASSESSMENTS

Assessment Submission and Re-Submission (Re-assessment)

Students must submit their completed assessment as per the due date in their Assessment Schedule.

If students comply with the required assessment due dates and have been assessed as 'Competency Not Achieved/Fail', they are entitled to a second attempt (a re-submission) and will incur the re-assessment fee of $120 per unit (note: you will be charged per unit and not per task). The re-assessment fee must be paid (in full) prior to the submission due date of a re-assessment. The student can choose to do a re-assessment within twelve (12) weeks of receiving their final result. Once they have filled out the re-assessment form and have made the payment, they have seven (7) days to complete their re-assessment by following the instructions provided to them by the Academic team.

If a student does not submit their re-assessment by the due date, their result will remain as 'Competency Not Achieved/Fail' and will have to re-enrol in the unit again. If a student was enrolled in a unit but did not submit the assessments during the term, but have attended class and participated in class observations, they must pay a penalty of $250 per unit to complete it within the twelve (12) week period or repeat the unit when offered again.

Re-assessment must take place within a reasonable time-frame. The process must start at the end of the term (on receiving the results) and within your CoE and date.

If a student takes leave without informing the college or are absent without a medical certificate despite being enrolled in a unit, they must re-enrol into the unit again.

APPEALS AGAINST ASSESSMENT DECISIONS POLICY

If you do not agree with the assessment decision or believe that you have been unfairly treated, you can appeal the decision. Firstly, you must discuss this with your assessor who has marked your assessment. If you still do not agree with the assessment outcome, you may request for a re-assessment.

Students who wish to lodge an appeal and request re-assessment must request this in writing to Greenwich Management College.

- The Academic Manager will arrange for a different assessor to mark the assessment.
- If the student is still dissatisfied with the result, the Academic Manager along with the two assessors will review the assessment task.
- If no agreement has been reached, the matter will be referred to an independent external body or panel acceptable to all parties, with experts in the area concerned.

Complaints can be made in four ways –

Online – www.ombudsman.gov.au/How-we-can-help/overseas-students

Phone – 1300 362 072 (or if outside Australia +61 2 6276 0111)

If you want to make a complaint in your language you can. Call the Translating and Interpreting Service in Australia on 131 450 (or if outside Australia +61 3 9203 4027). The Overseas Student Ombudsman will pay for the interpreter.

Facsimile – 02 6276 0123 (or if outside Australia +61 2 6276 0123)

Mail/Post – Overseas Students Ombudsman, GPO Box 442, Canberra ACT 2601, Australia

2. Once the Overseas Student Ombudsman has received your complaint, they will carefully consider if they can assist you based on the information and subsequent investigations. They will then contact you with their decision and why.

Protections at work

Overview

All people working in Australia under relevant Commonwealth workplace laws are entitled to general workplace protections.

The Fair Work Act 2009 (FW Act) provides protections of certain rights, including:

- workplace rights
- the right to engage in industrial activities
- the right to be free from unlawful discrimination
- the right to be free from undue influence or pressure in negotiating individual arrangements.

These rights are protected from certain unlawful actions, including (but not limited to):

- adverse action
- coercion
- misrepresentations
- undue influence or pressure in relation to:
 - individual flexibility arrangements under modern awards and enterprise agreements
 - guarantees of annual earnings
 - deductions from wages.

What rights are protected under General Protections?

Workplace Rights

The term 'workplace right' is broadly defined under the FW Act, and exists where a person:

- is entitled to a benefit or has a role or responsibility under a workplace law, workplace instrument (such as an award or agreement) or an order made by an industrial body
- is able to initiate or participate in a process or proceedings under a workplace law or workplace instrument
- has the capacity under a workplace law to make a complaint or inquiry:
 - to a person or body to seek compliance with that workplace law or workplace instrument
 - if the person is an employee, in relation to their employment.

Industrial activities

All employers, employees and independent contractors are free to become, or not to become, members of an industrial association, such as a trade union or employer association. In addition, all employers, employees and independent contractors are entitled to engage or not engage in what are called 'industrial activities'.

These activities are defined in the FW Act. They include various forms of lawful participation in an industrial association (such as a trade union) and its activities, including organising or promoting lawful activities for or on its behalf, representing its views, and seeking to be represented. Further, it covers a person being victimised for refusing to be involved in unlawful activity organised or promoted by an industrial association or industrial action.

For more information on industrial action, including what is protected industrial action, please see our Industrial action fact sheet.

Discrimination

Under the FW Act, it is unlawful for an employer to take adverse action against a person who is an employee, former employee or prospective employee because of the person's race, colour, sex, sexual orientation, age, physical or mental disability, marital status, family or carer's responsibilities, pregnancy, religion, political opinion, national extraction or social origin.

For more information on unlawful workplace discrimination, please see our Unlawful workplace discrimination fact sheet.

What am I protected from?

Adverse Action

Adverse action is action that is unlawful if it is taken for particular reasons. The FW Act defines a number of actions as adverse actions.

Adverse action taken by a person includes doing, threatening, or organising any of the following:

- an employer dismissing an employee, injuring them in their employment, altering their position to their detriment, or discriminating between them and other employees

- an employer refusing to employ a prospective employee or discriminating against them in the terms and conditions the employer offers
- a principal terminating a contract with an independent contractor, injuring them or altering their position to their detriment, refusing to use their services or to supply goods and services to them, or discriminating against them in the terms and conditions the principal offers to engage them on
- an employee or independent contractor taking industrial action against their employer or principal
- an industrial association, or an officer or member of an industrial association, organising or taking industrial action against a person, or taking action that is detrimental to an employee or independent contractor
- an industrial association imposing a penalty of any kind on a member.

The FW Act prohibits a person from taking adverse action against another person because that person:

- has a workplace right
- has or has not used a workplace right
- proposes to, or proposes not to, use a workplace right
- does or does not belong to a trade union
- engages or does not engage in industrial activity (as set out previously).

Adverse action does not include:

- action that is authorised by or under the FW Act or any other Commonwealth law
- an employer standing down an employee who is engaged in protected industrial action
- an employer standing down an employee who is employed under a contract of employment that provides for the employer to stand down the employee in the circumstances.

Coercion

It is unlawful for a person to organise or take action (or threaten to) with the intent to coerce another person or third party to:

- use or not use a workplace right, or use it in a particular way
- take part in industrial activity
- employ or not employ a particular person

- engage or not engage a particular independent contractor
- allocate or not allocate certain duties or responsibilities to a particular employee or independent contractor
- give a particular employee or independent contractor certain duties and responsibilities.

Misrepresentations

A person must not knowingly or recklessly make a false or misleading representation about:

- the workplace rights of another person
- the use, or the effect of the use, of a workplace right by another person
- another person's obligation to take part in industrial activity
- another person's obligation to tell anyone whether they, or a third person:
 - is or is not an officer or member of an industrial association
 - is or is not taking part in industrial activity.

Undue influence or pressure

Undue influence or pressure is when an employer exerts significant or inappropriate pressure on an employee to modify or alter their conditions of employment.

It is unlawful for an employer to force or try to force an employee to:

- make or not make an agreement or arrangement under the National Employment Standards (which commenced operation from 1 January 2010)
- make or not make an agreement or arrangement under a term of a modern award or enterprise agreement that is permitted to be included in the award or agreement
- agree to or terminate an individual flexibility arrangement under an enterprise agreement or modern award
- accept a guarantee of annual earnings
- agree or not agree to a deduction from amounts payable to the employee in relation to the performance of work.

The undue influence or pressure or coercive behaviour can be unlawful even if it does not succeed in making the person take or not take the action.

How can I seek help for a general protections contravention?

There are a number of avenues a person can pursue if they believe they have been subject to a general protections contravention.

A person who believes they have been subject to a general protections contravention can request assistance from the Fair Work Ombudsman (FWO) by:

- submitting an online enquiry
- calling us on 13 13 94.

The FWO can investigate allegations of contraventions of the general protections provisions. Where identified, the FWO can initiate legal action for penalties of up to $12,600 for an individual, or $63,000 for a corporation.

The Fair Work Commission (FWC) can also deal with alleged contraventions of the general protections provisions.

There are two main types of applications:

- disputes – if a person has not been dismissed, but alleges that there has been some other contravention of the general protections provisions, they may make an application to the FWC to deal with the dispute
- dismissals – if a person believes they have been dismissed and alleges that their dismissal was in contravention of the general protections provisions, they should make an application to the FWC to deal with the dismissal in the first instance. A general protections dismissal application must be lodged within 21 days of the dismissal taking effect.
