ANNUAL ACTIVITIES REPORT

2019

Hello from the Directors

2019 was a year bursting with activity and community engagement. As you browse through our annual activities report, you'll see the abundance of programming and content that was created by our community producers and our staff. We are especially proud of our Outreach efforts which include programming for The Local Seen and Town Talk. We became part of the Scallop Roll, an artistic endeavor sponsored by the Plymouth Area Chamber of Commerce. We went out into our communities and met people wherever they were. WE told their stories. We continue to serve our municipalities and our schools by bringing their important messages and inspiring creations to you.

PACTV's funding continues to be under threat as Public, Education and Government Access (PEG) television is funded by cable subscribers, and unfortunately their number is dwindling. Technology brings new challenges and new platforms. We will constantly shift and adjust to this environment. Our Fundraising arm, Creative Media Services, provides much needed financial support to our Mission and our Objectives and at the same time is a resource for local businesses and nonprofit who need creative ways to promote themselves. We are working with legislative allies to explore options for future funding. We continue to support the work of Plymouth 400, Inc. as we get closer to 2020. Working as the on-the-ground collaborator to NBC-10, Plymouth 400's official media sponsor, we will support events and provide coverage that will bring the 400th celebration to the world stage.

Finally, we love our towns, our non-profits, our small and large businesses and our community as a whole. We are honored to be your local source for information, engagement and entertainment. Please reach out to us with ideas, comments and suggestions. We are proud to be your community media center and look forward to 2020.

 Addendum 4/20/2020

Our new reality is very different from what we all imagined. As we focus our energies on helping our municipalities communicate effectively and often with their residents, we also continue to highlight the "silver linings" of the pandemic we now find ourselves in. For every negative there is always a positive and we are astounded at the sense of community, togetherness and altruism that we are witnessing. Now, more than ever, Community Media is proving that however globally connected the world has become, LOCAL is paramount in our lives. PACTV is proud to be your local resource.

We share our video with pride, knowing that the dedication and diligence put into it by the PACTV staff makes it a product of which we can be extremely proud. - Michael Jackman, Chair, South Shore Community Partners in Prevention (CHNA 23)

Ken Buechs

Ken was a leader in the Plymouth community serving on the planning board and many other committees. He was a volunteer producer for successful and award-winning cable access shows on PACTV, including Talk of the Towne, which was anchored by his wife. He was also a leader behind the scenes providing counsel to elected and appointed officials in town. He loved to capture his adventures on film first still photography and later becoming an expert in the field of videography. Ken was particularly proud of his work chronicling the return of the Mayflower II to Plymouth's waterfront after one of its many seasons away in preparation of Plymouth 400. He will be missed.

*How lucky are we that PACTV is based right here in Plymouth.
Your voice matters. - Karen Buechs*

Working with PACTV Creative Media Services was fun, yet very professional. They were able to tell the story the way I had wanted it told, taking a great deal of pressure off me during a very busy time. I looked forward to bringing this video to final production and to creating future videos of the characters with them - this experience has shown me the power that this form of visual communications has in engaging an audience.

Membership & the Community Channel

The Community Channel is the place to find local content from your town!

PACTV has over 200 members that are part of our organization, including producers. PACTV serves individuals, youth, seniors, businesses, nonprofits and municipal employees in the four towns we serve. Between member productions and staff-led government shows, we had approximately 136 ongoing shows coming out of our facility in 2019. This contributed to the over 2,000 hours PACTV's Studio A and B were utilized. The Kitchen Studio was booked for over 150 hours and the training lab was used over 600 hours. The portable cameras were popular for field shoots, clocking in over 3,000 hours.

The Community Channel can be seen in Duxbury, Kingston, Pembroke and Plymouth. Programming on this channel is reflective of our communities. Some of the shows are made by residents on a variety of topics such as talk shows, children's theater, religion, hobbies, cooking and much more! The Community Channel is also the only noncommercial, First Amendment forum in these towns. People from our communities can also sponsor shows or specials of interest to them to play on the Community Channel:

PACTV not only offers citizen producers access to world-class equipment & software, it welcomes us to a family of caring pros! - Marilee Driscoll, The Plymouth Show

Membership has been busy with activity! Longtime member, Sam Murphy, finished his much-anticipated senior project and submitted it to the channels. Sam has been working on this project since April 2018. Using interviews, fun graphics and sweeping footage, America's Hometown discusses beginning of Plymouth's story and how the town is preserving and commemorating its history. In addition to members like Sam, there are many non-profits benefitting from membership services as well. Pilgrim Area Collaborative's GAP Program has been taking studio and editing classes since October and have just about finished editing their video about the many services the GAP program provides. In November, they were also able to sit it on a PCN Interview to experience what it takes to film a studio production. Other non-profits including Project Growth and Helping Hands continue to produce content as well. Project Growth continues to work on their piece about a day in the life of being a student at the program. Helping Hands, who joined in July 2019, are currently filming two shows – The Helping Hands Half Hour, which has produced six episodes and Senior Living which has produced nine episodes.

In Our Schools

Our partnership with PACTV has created unique learning opportunities for our students pursuing their passion in Communication and Journalism and provide our teachers with resources to enhance lessons!
- Principal Michaela Gill, SLRHS

PACTV manages the Educational Access programs and channels for the town of Kingston and Pembroke. Both programs are the result of collaborations between PACTV and the individual schools, reflecting the needs and preferences of each system. We strive to provide students, educators and other volunteers the opportunity to develop studio and field production skills as well as proficiency in industry standard multi-media software.

PACTV awarded $2,000 in total scholarships to seniors graduating from both high schools in 2019.

PACTV maintains the Television Production studio at Silver Lake Regional High School and uses the studio as a base of operations for Laker TV's PSA projects, Independent Studies, tours and other collaborative projects with educators throughout the school.

As a result of this work, 57 pieces of programming were produced for the Educational Access channel (Comcast 14/Verizon 41) in 2019, including:

- Silver Lake Graduation
- Life on the Lake News Show
- Creative Writing Independent Study Projects
- Concert Coverage & PSAs
- HUDL Basketball & Volleyball
- Performing Arts Events

Laker TV & Independent Studies

Students frequently direct the types of projects they are interested in creating, in addition to acting as crew on event coverage for the school. In 2019, there was one Independent Study, geared towards creative writing students who wanted to further pursue developing their writing style into something visual, which included academic and production studies.

Pembroke Educational Access

Titan TV News Crew filming their first episode in December

The dedicated and persistent staff at PACTV is undaunted. Each week, their staff comes into our school to work with administrators, teachers, and students to try and get this important program up and running. They are generous with their time and resources, all in the name of providing opportunities for the students of our community. They are terrific educational partners.

- Principal Marc Talbot, PHS

PACTV operates out of a classroom in the Arts Wing at Pembroke Public High School, also known as Titan TV. Educational Access staff are present at the school, to facilitate during Titan Time, as well as work on special projects with academic educators within the school.

As a result of this work, in 2019, 17 pieces of programming were produced for the Pembroke Educational Access channel (Comcast 14), including:

- Pembroke High School Graduation
- Titan TV News Show
- Concert Coverage & PSAs
- Veterans Presentation
- Senior Walk
- Student Services Presentations
- Shark Tank Challenge at Hobomock Elementary

Titan TV

Students received video production training and worked on skills such as handling cameras, editing and how to package video. Titan TV met during Titan Time and students acted as crew during school events like concerts and graduation.

Youth Documentary Workshop

Bee Mindful: Preserving the Hive Together was produced at PACTV's 2019 Summer Documentary Workshop.

The PACTV program is a two-week course for local students in 7th, 8th and 9th grade to teach them the start to finish fundamentals of producing a documentary. Over the years, students have put together award winning documentaries as this year the kids and instructors focused their attention on local beekeepers and the importance of taking care of our local pollinators.

The students conducted interviews and shot the documentary at three different locations over a period of two days and edited their movie with the help of the PACTV staff (Erika Christensen, Ben Alexander and Zach Dolan.) Thank you to the Plymouth County Extension with local Entomologist, Blake Dinius and two beekeepers, Mark Hancock from Carver and Glen Cornell from Whitman.

This documentary was accepted into two film festivals in 2019:

(Accepted November 4, 2019)

(Accepted December 20, 2019)

The summer youth documentary workshop provides a unique opportunity to explore the worlds of research, film, and media. The students demonstrated the ability to read, comprehend, and question primary literature at the college and graduate levels. It is reassuring that our next generation will be equipped with the skills to dissolve the purported misinformation and lack of scientific literacy that plague our internet and media sources today. - Blake Dinius, Entomologist Educator at County Of Plymouth

I was very pleased and surprised at the enthusiasm that the students had in the project. It's nice to see that they all were very eager to perform their tasks with such professionalism at their ages, it's very nice to see this in young adults. Hope the video was a big hit with the community. - Glen Cornell, Local Beekeeper & Plymouth County Beekeepers Association Educator

In the spring of 2019, PACTV hosted two candidate forums for Pembroke and one candidate forum for Plymouth. In addition we covered a Plymouth Area Chamber of Commerce "Meet the Candidates Night." In Kingston, PACTV covered the Kingston Business Association Candidate Forum and Candidate Night with WATD 95.5FM.

CMS's work was of the highest quality and they provided strategic, technical and creative support with every detail of the project. Our patients and families are able to follow the instructions via the training videos and because CMS fully thought through the program, they were able to add additional graphics for clarity, this has increased our compliance of the studies and the overall quality of the videos are clinical study grade.

- Christine McSherry, RN, CEO Casimir

Fundraising for our Nonprofit PACTV

In our ever-evolving landscape as an industry, PACTV faces serious challenges to our funding. This being said, we remain committed to maintaining the services we believe are essential for our towns, our non-profit organizations and our residents.

In order to meet these goals, PACTV created Creative Media Services (CMS), a division of PACTV. CMS is a production house, a collective of visual artists, technicians and storytellers who help businesses and non-profits create videos for their websites, social media platforms, email marketing and internal training. We also have made our facility available for production rentals. The funds raised through CMS support PACTV's essential services to the communities we serve.

2019 was a year of building the CMS division, we are thankful to our partners, customers and supporters. We are looking forward to our continued partnerships and creating beautiful work together in 2020.

Community News

PACTV Community News (PCN) has served as PACTV's main outreach tool for the past seven years, bringing stories about the people, organizations and events from our southeast communities.

We have told stories about music festivals, filmmakers, restaurants business and town groundbreaking, local theater programs, museum displays, art shows, water forums, Lyme disease research and trash and recycling changes. We have brought information and updates from community groups such as Plymouth 400 & the Plymouth Area Chamber of Commerce. Our town update interview segment, Town Talk, gave updates with our town managers, the sheriff department, our county treasurer and info about the housing market.

In 2018 and into 2019, along with the hiring of Elizabeth Shanahan-Jewett, we began reevaluating our outreach strategies which led to the development of The Local Seen.

*This is such a great piece, thank you again for all you have done to promote this program. You really captured a lot in 3 minutes. We appreciate PCN's time and interest in our Adult Ed program. You are all the best! - Leslie Kalinowski, SLRHS
