dfnet

Clinical research is demanding. DFnet gives you the power you need to succeed—every time, anywhere.

DFnet is a healthcare technology company that provides hybrid clinical data management solutions, including electronic data capture, eSource, and data management services. We deliver more flexibility, better data quality, and greater efficiency, all with the aim of helping researchers move science forward.

For more than 20 years, we've been a key part of clinical trials with global impact. We can help your team make an impact, too.

DFdiscover Family of Solutions for Clinical Research

SOFTWARE

For managing complex clinical trials with precision and ease.

DFdiscover

The only Clinical Data Management System designed for seamless support of data from any source, anywhere in the world.

DFengage

The ePRO mobile app that improves the patient experience— along with study outcomes.

DFcollect

The truly global eClinical solution built to capture data reliably in sites with limited connectivity.

DFconsent

The eConsent offering that enables participants to consent quickly and easily in their own language right from their phones.

PROFESSIONAL SERVICES

Providing the expertise that will help you build and operate successful studies fast and within budget.

▶ Insight-Driven Planning

We partner with clients early to identify objectives, high-value tasks, risk indicators, potential biases and critical study endpoints. Our monitoring plans ensure studies are safe, compliant, and efficient across their lifespan.

▶ Rapid Setup

Let us set up your database, CRFs, edit checks, code lists, and procedures so that you get more accurate outcomes in less time.

▶ Advanced Data Analytics

Our cross-disciplinary team combines clinical trial development expertise and programming know-how. We offer comprehensive statistical analysis, including TLFs, and interim statistical analysis for adaptive designs.

Many had thought data collection would be 100% digital by now, but that's just not the case. Most trials still rely on some form of paper data or include sites with limited connectivity. We understand and are fully committed to supporting clients wherever they are in the transition to digital and whatever challenges their trial involves.

DFNET PEOPLE

Our eClinical solutions are powerful, but the people behind them are unmatched. Customer-driven, collaborative, expert, responsive, and dedicated, we are true partners committed to your success.

WHERE YOU'LL FIND US

You can find DFnet people and offices around the world, including in the US, Canada, South Africa, India, China, and Europe.

Better data.
Better insights.
Better care.
