

Algoz

Algoz is a part of the Fingonom group. A company which stands for cracking the code of investments and creating leading trading algorithms.

Position Trading

Based on our deep understanding of the crypto market, our position trading strategy capitalizes on trends and directional movements of the most liquid assets in the market, to outperform the most traded digital asset like bitcoin. This directional strategy uses a proprietary signal to enter long positions on different assets for a mid-term period (i.e. week - month).

Algoz Trading Solutions

Algoz Trading is all about bringing Fingonom's track record expertise from traditional markets to the world of digital assets and advance crypto markets with cutting-edge trading solutions.

Our team of in-house experts have developed algorithms suitable for the crypto markets, which are constantly being improved to ensure that our clients receive top-tier service, tailor-made to their requirements.
