ONLINE LEARNING POWERED BY REVEAL

Smarter

Brainwaves

Introducing Brainwaves, the official Reveal online learning platform designed to provide users with educational content and certification courses tailored to their role(s) within the organization. So whether you are an attorney focused on leveraging Reveal's end-to-end eDiscovery solution to reduce legal risk or you're in IT providing application support, we have a certification that meets your educational needs.

We teach you how to get the most out of our technology using an interactive hands-on approach to learning. We offer training and certification programs that empower our users to maximize the value of our technologies.

For a list of our current course offerings, please review the following pages or go to Brainwaves at <https://brainwaves.brainspace.com> to begin your Reveal learning journey. For general questions about Brainwaves or any of our course offerings, please contact us training@revealdata.com.
