

Alacrity Solutions Acquires Temporary Housing Directory

Acquisition Further Expands Alacrity's Suite of Services in the P&C Insurance Industry

Fishers, IN – October 01, 2021 – Alacrity Solutions Group, LLC (“Alacrity Solutions”), a recognized leader in providing insurance claims management services in North America, today announced the acquisition of Temporary Housing Directory, LLC (“THD”). Financial terms of the transaction were not disclosed.

Founded in 2001 by Teresa Vidger and majority owned by White Wolf Capital, THD has established itself as one of the nation’s leading providers of short-term hotel and long-term relocation services for displaced policyholders due to damage or catastrophe on behalf of property insurance Carriers. Through a nationwide network of hotel, rental, and other ancillary service providers as well as meaningful investment in technology enablement, THD has differentiated themselves as a leader in service quality and ease-of-doing-business for their Customers, including many of the leading insurance Carriers in North America.

“Temporary Housing Directory’s twenty-year track record of delivering exceptional service to their Customers has solidified their strong reputation in the insurance services and corporate relocation markets. Their leadership team’s focus on technology innovation and cultivation of a strong corporate culture will be a great addition to Alacrity. We are really excited to partner with Teresa Vidger and the rest of the THD team,” said Jim Pearl, CEO of Alacrity Solutions. “This acquisition further positions Alacrity Solutions as one of the leading claims management providers and expands our service capabilities to our Carrier Partners throughout North America.”

Teresa Vidger, founder, and CEO of THD, stated, “We developed THD to be the premier provider to Carriers and have stayed relentlessly focused on innovation, reliability and personalized service along the way. As a team, we have differentiated the company as a standout partner. Now, with Alacrity’s power behind us, we have the opportunity to expand that presence and become an even greater end-to-end solution for our clients. I am thrilled that THD is joining the Alacrity family and excited about what this means both for our team and our Customers.”

The acquisition of THD from White Wolf Capital is Alacrity’s tenth acquisition since 2015. Alacrity has a focused strategy of partnering with and acquiring exceptional new platform and strategic add-on businesses to better serve the insurance claims industry as a single source service provider.
