

DesktopShipper Welcomes Todd Dunlop as Chief Operating Officer, Looks to Focus on Next Level Growth

This year, DesktopShipper has seen many successes including 100% growth year over year. To accelerate and elevate that growth moving forward, they are pleased to officially welcome Todd Dunlop as Chief Operating Officer.

Throughout 2020, DesktopShipper largely focused on the advancement of its state-of-the-art technologies and integrations with industry-leading partners allowing for companies of all sizes the ability to maximize the use of their software. With these new advancements, they are excited to bring on Dunlop to provide the expertise that is needed for continued growth.

“Todd has a proven track record over his 30 years in the industry in structuring companies to manage growth. We are excited to have him and are looking forward to a very successful future with him onboard.” – Clark Ransom, President of DesktopShipper

DesktopShipper is certain that Dunlop will be a valuable resource to both their team and to their current customer base. With an impressive career in the shipping software industry, Dunlop has managed a wide variety of teams deploying shipping solutions for start-ups to Fortune 500 companies.

“DesktopShipper has a great team and a mature product, which is what drew me to the company. I look forward to building off their current successes, and continuing to push towards the next-level.” – Todd Dunlop, Chief Operating Officer

With over 15 years of experience in creating a reliable, technology-forward service for their clients, DesktopShipper looks to continue to advance future innovation in its software that companies will rely on for all their shipping needs.

About DesktopShipper

*DesktopShipper provides a highly adaptable and feature-rich shipping solution with direct integration into marketplace and fulfillment workflows. We recognize the importance of providing a fast and reliable service as we analyze shipping needs and have aligned ourselves with industry leading partners giving us access to the latest services and technological advancements across the board. Ship your orders using DesktopShipper, save money in the process, and watch your business grow. Ship. Save. Grow.

DESKTOPSHIPPER

Marketing and PR

DesktopShipper

marketing@desktopshipper.com

Twitter Facebook LinkedIn