

Vehicle Accident Spill Response | Have Peace of Mind During a Critical Time

The Moments After An Accident Are Critical:

Vehicle accidents can result in fuel and fluid spills that are hazardous material incidents which require full remediation. Alaska National has partnered with Cura Emergency Services to provide you with 24/7 spill response, included at no cost in your commercial auto coverage.

Cura is a leader in nationwide emergency management. Their one call, full-service program provides 24/7 nationwide spill response management. Experienced Incident Managers will activate contractors, coordinate cleanup, and handle regulatory notifications and waste disposal.

Cura provides your team with:

- Site Coordination:
Cura Incident Managers communicate with first responders, DOT, Law Enforcement, and Regulatory Agencies, to ensure the cleanup effort is complete and effective.
- Regulatory Notifications:
Cura will handle both verbal and written regulatory notifications as required by local, state, and federal agencies.
- Waste Management:
Arrange and properly dispose of hazardous spill materials.
- Closure Reports:
Final closure reports filed with appropriate environmental and regulatory agencies with copies provided to you to ensure regulatory requirements are appropriately met.

When a vehicle accident results in a hazardous material spill, such as fuel, simply call 800.579.2872 to initiate the Cura spill response process.

Early intervention and proactive management allows us to help you protect your interests, and ensure you're in compliance with regulators. Our partnership with Cura provides you peace of mind during a critical time.
