

Now that the acquisition of Alaska National is complete, we wanted to tell you about a few changes and enhancements we've made to make sure you have a seamless, efficient and positive experience across the CopperPoint Family of Companies.

First, we are aligning the new business submission window to 120 days prior to the policy effective date for CopperPoint, PacificComp and Alaska National.

Second, we've established an inter-company business clearing process to eliminate any confusion for our agency/broker partners: effectively, a submission to any one company clears or reserves the account with all companies in the CopperPoint family.

As a reminder, a complete submission is defined as a completed application for the requested lines of coverage, and a minimum of 3 years currently valued loss runs.

Other than these two changes, I want to reiterate that it is business as usual. Your account team remains in place and renewals will continue to be serviced by your current company within the CopperPoint Family of Insurance Companies. For additional lines of coverage for an existing account, or for new business, please work with your current CopperPoint/ PacificComp/Alaska National underwriter.

We'll continue to keep you updated through these agency/broker advisories as we move forward. For now, we're focused on working closely with you to build a strong start for 2020. Should you have additional questions, here is a link to additional FAQs for your reference.

Thank you again for your continued commitment and collaboration. We look forward to the next chapter on our family journey, and to our continued mutual success.

Sincerely,

MARC SCHMITTLEIN
