The Ca' Pietra Hot List

THE LATEST TRENDS AND PRODUCTS COMING YOUR WAY...

From bold colours and decorative prints to exciting shapes and eco designs, our top tiles this season add instant impact to any space.

Shape Up

Sometimes you just want something different from the usual square field tile so this season we're all about hexagon and brick tiles.

We love how they can be laid in interesting formations to create something truly unique and with the aqua shades and pastel tones in our new porcelain Medina collection, there's a colourway to suit every scheme. Suitable for both walls and floors in interior spaces, these matt-finish designs look stunning when run along all surfaces in the same room for a sleek, seamless look. Why not have them on a bath panel too, for a fully co-ordinated feel? Or mix and match shapes and shades for a more eclectic style and let your space really sing!

Colour Trend

02

No Ca' Pietra Hot List would be complete without Lily Pad, so this season we've added some hot new colours to this Instagram-famous collection.

A huge hit with homeowners, designers, architects, bloggers and influencers alike, this stunning tile will turn any kitchen, bathroom or hallway into a room with instant appeal that gets everyone talking. Use it for floors, walls, wet rooms, splashbacks, feature areas and more, and create your own favourite look by laying the tiles in your favourite format.

Floor Show

Pick up on some of the colours used within the tiles and use for additional tiled areas as well as furniture and fittings to tie the look together.

Eco A high-impact look Option 04

We all want to do our bit for the environment and many of us take care to choose the most eco-friendly solutions for products that we buy and use in our homes. With this in mind, we've introduced a recycled glass collection for interior walls and floors called Brasserie.

In bold primary colours, sugar-sweet shades and neutral tones, the matt mosaic tiles are made from recycled glass and look spectacular as a kitchen or bathroom splashback or feature area or even underfoot in a light traffic area. We also love their hexagonal shape, which adds to their high-impact look.

Bring some texture to your project with our wonderfully tactile Oasis gloss ceramic tiles.

Suitable for interior walls, the tiles are available in a versatile colour palette that ranges from pale pastels to rich, dramatic shades. The Oasis surface has a Moroccan Zellige quality that longs to be touched, adding textural interest to walls. Add further appeal by laying them horizontally or mix it up with contrasting horizontal and vertical lines.

07 Inside Out

For a seamless finish between indoors and out, consider one of our versatile collections that can be used for interior spaces as well as outdoor landscaped areas. Kitchens with doors that open on to a terrace or patio are perfect for this trend while urban gardens, courtyards and even paving looks stunning in any of these decorative designs.

Take Brick Lane, an abstract tile that creates instant impact underfoot and can also be used as splashbacks and feature walls. Or Solar, which has a more 3D illusional effect that adds depth to smaller spaces. Perhaps Avenue is more your thing, with its floral motifs, star shapes and swirly effects. Whichever decorative design you favour, the end result is guaranteed to bring smiles all round.

We Like Your Style

There's so much excitement here at Ca' Pietra when we see what projects you've come up with for our tiles. Here are just some of our favourites.

Writer: @lisa_dawson_

For award-winning writer, blogger, creator, presenter and self-confessed interior addict Lisa Dawson, when it came to sprucing up the shower room in her Barn project she took a massive leap outside her colour comfort zone and went for our Colour Pop Ceramic tiles in Salmao. The Barn is an annexe that Lisa has revamped into a place for friends and family to stay, a location for work projects and an occasional Airbnb rental too. We agree that the tiles have a huge impact and a powerful retro seventies feel that lifts dark mornings. For the floor, Lisa chose our Piazza Geo Pearl Porcelain matt, which is carried through from the entrance hall and has an on-trend terrazzo design for contrast.

Blogger: @renovating_the_house

Think pink was the one rule when it came this blogger and Georgian property renovator's stunning shower room. Walls are adorned with our Carter Rose Ceramic gloss tiles, which are laid at angles to create a herringbone effect, while the shower area contains a handy storage niche for shampoo and shower gel. Thanks to the natural light within the room, the tiles appear different throughout the day, starting the morning as a peachy pink then turning more vibrant as the day goes on. We also love the way the tile trims have been colour matched to the paint used on the top half of the walls in the rest of the scheme. Nice touch.

Stylist: @emmarosestyle

Pink has been a massive trend lately and it's a look that's set to last, as it complements all interiors from classic to contemporary and everything in between. Check out how fabulous our Bazaar Ceramic tiles look as a backdrop to this neat concrete basin with brass taps in stylist Emma's home. The Rose Mallow gloss finish has a handmade look, which gives the tiles a timeless, aged feel - the perfect pairing for our Marlborough Terracotta flooring.

Blogger: @design_at_nineteen

We love seeing how you've transformed an outdoor space, so we were bowled over when we saw blogger Justin's spectacular garden makeover featuring our Parisian Café Porcelain tiles. Available in Black, Blue, Rosa or Dove Grey, they look amazing with Justin's own pergola design complete with hanging egg chair. The outdoor table and bench seating finish the space beautifully - a lovely spot for relaxing and planning that next project.

Interior designer:
@sophierobinsoninteriors

Colour expert Sophie Robinson has totally gone to town in her very own holiday home. Matching the units to our Colour Pop Ceramic Verde Negro really creates impact in this small space.

We Like Your Style

Blogger:
@esteelalonde

Our Carter Rose Ceramic gloss tile can be laid in different formations to create added visual impact. In blogger Estée Lalonde's shower space, the tiles form a herringbone or brick-bond effect, which we just adore. The black Crittall-style shower screen, black taps, floating shelf and circular mirror all provide contrast to this soft blush pink and really give the en-suite an edge.

Blogger: @lovinglinden

Can you imagine our excitement when we spotted our tiles on Channel 4's Old House, New Home with presenter and architect George Clarke? Homeowner's Simon and Emma updated their utility room and picked our Moroccan Impressions Joya Green Porcelain tiles for the floor. Once a small outdated kitchen, this space has been transformed into a gorgeous utility room, with chic soft green units and an eye-catching Ca' Pietra floor tile. Almost makes you want to do the washing doesn't it?

Blogger:
@mishkashoe

Decorative floor tiles give bathrooms instant impact and they work particularly well in an otherwise neutral scheme. Our Joya Green Porcelain matt design gives this space a Moroccan vibe reminiscent of exotic travels and heady new adventures. We also love how blogger Michaela has taken our Dolly Ceramic and applied them to the wall in a herringbone effect. It's a totally different look and feel to the Joya Green yet it works, showing how contrasting colours, materials, patterns and shapes can really bring a room to life.

Powerful Pinks

From powerful pinks that pack a punch to soft, sophisticated roses and pale pastels with a fifties flavour, pink in all its many wonderful forms is an enduring trend that took the interiors world by storm last year. It's a perfect palette that is so versatile it is still hugely popular today and our love affair with all things pink is showing no signs of slowing down.

Whether your project is classic, contemporary, industrial or eclectic in style, there is a pink tile from Ca' Pietra to suit. It works particularly well teamed with the latest trend for matt black brassware and fittings in bathrooms as well as grey concrete basins and metallic gold finished taps. Mix materials by adding natural wood grained furniture or keep it simple with crisp white sanitaryware. Pink tiles can add warmth to a cool scheme, bring personality into an otherwise neutral space and add an iridescent touch for a shiny, sparkly look.

3 of the best...

We've chosen our current three favourites but there's plenty more where these came from so check out all our designs to pick your perfect pink tile.

Yoga Penny Blush

Perfect for splashbacks and feature areas in bathrooms and kitchens, our Yoga Penny Blush mosaic really catches the mood for teaming pale pink tones with blues or greys. It's a fun design that is easy to install and will instantly revamp lacklustre walls, bringing wow factor to any space.

Yoga Penny Porcelain → see page 240

Lily Pad Bubblegum

Our strikingly decorative Lily Pad tiles are a massive hit with homeowners, designers, architects and bloggers alike and they seemed to take over Instagram when they were launched! In this children's bathroom the homeowner has used Lily Pad in Bubblegum to create a feature wall behind the basin and loo and teamed the tiles with our Mono Hex design for the floor.

Important notes

Due to the nature of natural stone and terracotta, there will always be a colour variation from stone to stone, along with chips and other organic blemishes. Allowances should also be made for size and thickness – particularly so with our more rustic products. These features are an intrinsic part of natural materials, adding beauty, charm and character that will be unique to your home.

Please note that actual stone colour can vary slightly from these images, due to natural variation in stone batches and the limitations of photography and print. To see more images and to order samples, please visit capietra.com

LIMESTONE • SEASONED

The tones may be soft and muted, but the stone is as hard as nails – virtually indestructible, in fact. The natural riven face of the stone is smoothed off, then 'seasoned' to give the appearance of a time-worn, country house floor. A fantastic price for a memorably good limestone.

Jurassic

PORCELAIN • TEXTURED

This is a great alternative to the famous French Barr limestone, which is practically impossible to find in affordable reclaimed form nowadays. It's in a flagstone format and has a really authentic, highly-varied pattern, which works really well in bigger spaces. Unlike natural stone, it is smooth and flat, which does make it very easy to clean, but it does have the lightly chipped edges that add to the sense that this is not easy to distinguish from the real thing.

Important notes

Due to the nature of natural stone there will always be a colour variation from stone to stone, along with chips and other organic blemishes. Allowances should also be made for size and thickness - particularly so with our more rustic products. These features are an intrinsic part of natural materials, adding beauty, charm and character that will be unique to your home.

Please note that colour can vary slightly from these images, due to natural variation in batches and the limitations of photography and print. To see more images and to order samples, please visit capietra.com

Real Encaustic & Terrazzo

Our encaustic and terrazzo collection features pops of colours and subtle shades suitable for both contemporary and classic homes.

243

Encaustic

274

Terrazzo

Why we love encaustic and terrazzo tiles:

Encaustic cement tiles - in which the pattern or figure on the surface is a product of different colours of pigmented cement - were first made in Europe in the late nineteenth century. The appeal of handmade encaustic tiles are how individual each and every tile is, the thickness and pigment shadings can vary from tile to tile, which enhances the uniqueness. Our collection of terrazzo tiles are made by hand using natural pigments, cement and marble chips. These on-trend terrazzo tiles retain their vintage, handmade charm, but the marble content makes them very durable and perfect for busy homes. Over time, our encaustic and terrazzo tiles will create a beautiful "lived-in" look.

When it comes to grouting tiles, we recommend you steer clear of a dark grout (like black or dark grey) to prevent the paler areas of some patterns becoming stained. We've produced a super handy brochure called "decorating with encaustic tiles" which gives you a guide to everything worth knowing about this tile collection.

Please note that colour can vary slightly from these images, due to natural variation in batches and the limitations of photography and print. To see more images and to order samples, please visit capietra.com

Throughout this section you may find our slip-rating symbol. Where this is present we recommend only using these tiles in domestic settings, as they are of moderate slip risk. Ensure tiles are not used around pool surrounds and keep them clean to maintain slip resistance.

Important notes

Due to the nature of natural stone and terracotta, there will always be a colour variation from stone to stone, along with chips and other organic blemishes. Allowances should also be made for size and thickness – particularly so with our more rustic products. These features are an intrinsic part of natural materials, adding beauty, charm and character that will be unique to your home.

Please note that actual stone colour can vary slightly from these images, due to natural variation in stone batches and the limitations of photography and print. To see more images and to order samples, please visit capietra.com

Corfe

LIMESTONE • ETCHED

The underlying grey in Corfe limestone is 'bleached' by the etching process, and so it does look quite different to the honed and the tumbled options. The etching gives the stone a good grip finish for wet and exterior use as well as a fantastic tactile look that works well in contemporary interiors.

LIMESTONE • SEASONED

The tones may be soft and muted, but the stone is as hard as nails – virtually indestructible, in fact. The natural riven face of the stone is smoothed off, then ‘seasoned’ to give the appearance of a time-worn, country house floor. A fantastic price for a memorably good limestone.

Stone Types

Perfectly imperfect – the beauty of natural stone means that there will be variations from piece to piece. There is no such thing as a “perfect” piece of stone, which is what we love most about the unique nature of our products in this collection.

Granite

Geology

Granite is an igneous rock comprising mineral grains – primarily quartz and feldspar – that are big enough to distinguish with the human eye.

Key quality

There's no such thing as indestructible, but granite is incredibly hard and durable and, even in its natural state, virtually impervious. Its colour and patterns vary through white, pinks and greys.

Limestone

Geology

A sedimentary rock mostly formed during the Jurassic period by deposits of shells collecting on the sea-bed and being compressed over time.

Key quality

Shell and fossil patterns and an infinite range of shades – usually from cream through to yellow, but also encompassing white and black.

Marble

Geology

The geological process that produces the prominent veins and quartz in the surface of marble is called recrystallization. The vivid colours vary depending on the prevalent minerals in the area from which it is quarried.

Key quality

Very hard and very smooth, with myriad colour tones and markings that are beautiful and mesmerising to look at.

Sandstone

Geology

A sedimentary rock made up of compacted grains of sand, bound together by a secondary mineral such as calcite, clay or silica.

Key quality

Hard-wearing, frost-resistant and low-slip make it ideal for outdoors.

Slate

Geology

A fine-grained rock derived from an original sedimentary rock made of clay or volcanic ash.

Key quality

The natural, slight undulations in the stone (caused by the way it is split when quarried) give it instant character. The dark colour makes it easy to maintain.

Travertine

Geology

The stone is a crystallized form of calcium carbonate, or limestone, deposited by mineral springs and characterised by surface pits and holes when first quarried. These are often filled with resin at source, giving the travertine a much smoother and more refined finish.

Key quality

'Nature's masterpiece', has been a signature stone of Italian architecture from the Romans onwards. Especially when vein-cut, travertine has a full range of shades and natural pitting that give it a combination of character and sophistication. Perfect for feature walls and chic interiors. Be aware of variation thickness, finish variation and natural blemishes.

Tonal variation

Natural stone almost always has some tonal variation from tile to tile and slab to slab. Natural stone and terracotta can carry slight chips and other blemishes. Allowances should be made for variations in size and thickness. To assess the natural variation of stone, we always recommend that you stand at least two metres away and look at the overall effect rather than each tile or slab, just as you would view a work of art by looking at the whole picture, before you start to inspect the brushstrokes and the detail.

Tile Types

Porcelain

Porcelain tiles are made from a mixture of clays and minerals and fired at a very high temperature. This means that they are extremely hard wearing.

Tip: Due to the nature of the manufacturing process, porcelain tiles may be subject to a very slight 'bow' along the length of larger tiles (this can normally be corrected using a specialist clip system). This slight bowing, which will fall within European Standards (and please be assured that all our tiles are CE compliant), can cause slight 'lipping' between one tile and the next. If you wish to minimize the effect of this, we recommend that tiles should be laid square, or staggered by not more than a third of a tile length, rather than laying brick-bond.

Non-rectified finish

Porcelain that is 'non-rectified' may vary very slightly in dimension, which means that a slightly wider grout joint needs to be used.

NB 'non-rectified' porcelain products always carry a calibre code in order that tiles can be grouped together by their finished size.

Rectified finish

Each porcelain tile is the same dimension, although there is still a small degree of tolerance.

Terrazzo

The same technique is used as encaustic tiles (see left), but ground marble chips are added to the top layer to add extra durability and visual effect.

Please note this product requires sealing as part of the installation process. Refer to page 319.

Encaustic

Cement tiles differ from ceramic tiles in that the pattern or figure on the surface is a product of different colours of clay, rather than a glazed application. This is called the encaustic technique, where the pattern is inlaid into the body of the tile so that the design and colour remain, even as the tile wears. Cement tiles will age naturally and develop their own patina with time, like natural stones. Cement tiles are suitable for domestic and commercial use floors and walls.

Accept imperfections. A major attraction, is their perfect imperfection. Thickness can vary slightly from tile to tile, as can pigment shadings, and patterns may bleed at the edges when they're compressed, all enhancing their uniqueness. Another reason for their attraction is that they are a 'living' tile that changes over time.

Encaustic tiles can be used on almost any internal floor or wall surface as long as the sub-base is suitable and prepared for tiling and weight-bearing because these tiles are a little more heavy than the average wall tile. The tiles can be used in wet areas but it's likely they will fade slightly, especially darker colours and patterns due to the natural pigments used. If the tiles are coated with a thin layer of sealer every one or two years this will reduce, however, it is all part of the natural ageing process. The tiles are not classed as frost resistant so we do not recommend using them in external areas that are exposed to wet and freezing conditions.

Please note this product requires sealing as part of the installation process. Refer to page 319.

Ceramic

These tiles are glazed with a base colour and can be then over-printed or hand painted with a pattern. Glazed ceramic is suitable for domestic floors (where specified) and walls. Crackle glaze tiles will require sealing.

Glass

Glass has its own beauty, but can also be transformed by the natural or ambient light with sparkles, reflections and fascinating changes of colour. It's easy to maintain and non-porous.

Glossary Of Finishes

Finishes applied to natural stone

Our stones come in a range of finishes – these may be for aesthetic or practical effect. In a bathroom, for example, you may want a more textured finish for better slip resistance. If you are restoring a heritage property, an ageing process such as seasoned will help you to match existing materials.

Please note these descriptions are only a guide because every stone is unique and reacts to the finishing process differently.

Distressed

The edges of the stone are chipped by hand and cushioned using diamond grinding pads. This process gives a time-worn appearance to the stone that is more refined than our seasoned finish.

Etched

The face of the stone is sand-blasted to make for a low-slip finish; perfect for external and wet areas. The process gives a ‘bleached’ look that gives it a more contemporary appearance. An etched finish is often used internally and can be used to create a seamless look from inside to outdoors.

Handmade

Refers to our terracotta collection, where raw clay is worked into moulds by hand, left to dry and baked.

Honed

The sawn surface of the stone is planed by machine using high-pressure diamond pads to create a smooth face. Depending on its hardness, the surface will be left with a satin or more matt finish. The edges are diamond-sawn and typically contain imperfections. Once grouted, these imperfections blend into the stone for a truly natural effect.

Polished

As its name suggests this finish gives the stone a more glossy appearance. It is a slight advance on a honed finish which processes the stone with finer grade diamond pads to close in the surface of the stone so much that it will reflect light.

A polished finish tends to work better on harder and more compact stones such as marble. The edges are diamond-sawn and typically contain imperfections. Once grouted, these imperfections blend into the stone for a truly natural effect.

Reclaimed

Genuinely reclaimed products, often more than 100 years old. Each tile varies and requires a little more attention on site.

Riven or Rockface

A riven finish is naturally split along the strata of the stone to create an authentic surface that will vary from stone to stone. There is normally a high variation in thickness with riven stones (unless they are calibrated at source). In order to achieve a relatively even surface, you can use the adhesive bed to reduce this variation. Riven stone tends to disguise the wear and tear of everyday family life.

Satino

The stone undergoes a high-pressure process which brushes the surface, uncovering its natural character and adding an extra dimension to the product. Edges are usually straight with a little rounding.

Sawn

As its name suggest this is a raw finish left by the cutting process of the stone, normally used on external stones for its low slip properties.

Seasoned

Heavily tumbled edges and a textured surface, which is either naturally-occurring or applied to give the stone a rugged, flagstone effect.

Tumbled

The stones are individually placed in a jumbo rotating vat, which is full of pebbles, to create naturally soft, round edges – much like pebbles on a beach. Great for replicating a ‘lived in’ look that is not too rustic.

Tumbled and etched

This is an extra etching process that is applied to tumbled stone to increase slip resistance. The stone undergoes a washing process that etches the surface, to improve it so that it retains its natural warmth and colour.

Velvet

The stone is first etched producing a ‘bleached’ look and then undergoes a satino process which gives it a tactile, velvety feel. This finish works effectively in both traditional and modern interiors.

Vintaged

The edges of the stone are fettered by machine, while the surface is either honed or satino finished, producing a simple yet charming, cost-effective finish.

Weathered

The result of an intensive process where the edges of the stone are chipped, exposing an open-grain surface. A weathered finish authentically replicates the appearance of ancient flagstones.

Worn

This is a smoothing process that is applied to riven stone by hand or machine. The process grinds down to the natural undulations of the surface and creates the effect of old flagstones.

Finishes applied to porcelain and ceramic

Matt

Low sheen with some texture or graining. Varies depending on tile.

Satin

Low sheen and smooth to touch. Varies depending on tile.

Gloss

A shiny finish glaze. Some glazes are designed with a crackle effect and require sealing. Polished finishes are more susceptible to scratching, especially floors.

Polished

Highly polished by mechanical process. Polished finishes are more susceptible to scratching, especially floors.

Textured

Very matt with some relief to the surface.

Brick Design Options & Corner Cutting

Brick Design Options

Be inspired by our design options when working with metro tiles.

Corner cutting

For that extra bit of drama in reception and garden room floors, why not insert cabochons – smaller tiles that fit between four larger stones. We can cut one corner or all four corners of the main tiles to take a 10 x 10cm cabochon.

Pentagons

Octagon

To cut matching skirting

Imagine a skirting board that doesn't need repainting or treating, isn't susceptible to kicking, scuffing or damp. We can cut and hand-finish the stone you select to 9cm or 12cm strips to create a beautiful stone skirting that matches your floor.

Pricing

Pentagons: Cutting to pentagons (one corner per main tile) excluding the cabochon £19.00m<sup>2</sup> INC VAT

Octagon: Cutting to octagons (four corners per main tile) excluding the cabochon £31.00m<sup>2</sup> INC VAT

Cabochons:

- Nero Slate Honed 10 x 10 x 1.2cm £3.56 INC VAT each
- Nero Slate Tumbled 10 x 10 x 1.2cm £4.00 INC VAT each
- Tora Blue Limestone 10 x 10 x 1.2cm £4.61 INC VAT each

Matching Skirting: Cutting and finishing the top edge of skirting to height of 9cm or 12cm, £25.00 INC VAT per linear metre excluding the purchase price of the stone.

Patterns

Products that are supplied in 'patterns' consist of combinations of set size flagstones, which enable you to follow classic patterns such as American, Danish, Dutch, English, French, Greek, Moroccan and Spanish as illustrated here.

This means you can lay your natural stone or man-made floor to these patterns without the waste associated with cutting uniform tiles to appropriate sizes.

So, for example, one set of 'English pattern' consists of 13 stones, and 2.23m<sup>2</sup> in total. Some of our products (primarily natural stone) are available in different widths and random lengths, so that you can choose whether to lay floors in your own free form pattern, or in a regimented design (see fig 4).

When buying a pattern you must buy at least one complete set of tiles and therefore a minimum number of square metres, depending on the exact number of tiles within that pattern.

Grout

Resin Cement Grout

Introducing our brand-new grout collection. You've picked your tiles now enjoy picking a grout that either complements or contrasts. The design options are endless. Just remember that if you're using a natural material that we would advise steering clear of grouts that are too dark as they can stain the surface of the stone and remember to read up about sealing your tiles too.

Why choose resin-cement grout?

Applied on interior and exterior walls and floors, resin-cement grout can be used with porcelain and ceramic tiles as well as glass mosaic, natural stone, marble and composite materials, even thin tiles. This blended grout of epoxy resin and cement is easy to apply with the added benefit of being non-porous, resilient and fine-grained.

Used in homes, commercial and industrial projects, it copes easily with hardwearing heavy traffic as well as swimming pools and water features where thermal shock and freezing could occur. Resin-cement grout is also compatible with underfloor heating.

Use for high-performance grouting of joints ranging from 0mm to 20mm and enjoy the smooth, seamless finish, solidity, water-repellent nature with a water-drop effect.

There are so many reasons to choose resin-cement grout. As well as being water-repellent with very low water absorption, it offers high surface hardness and is extremely resistant to acids. It also provides colour uniformity for your walls or floors while grout joints are ultra-hygienic thanks to resin-cement's natural antibacterial properties. What's more, it is easy to clean and care for and it can be recycled, avoiding waste disposal costs and helping our environment at the same time.

Stone & Tile Installation

We recommend that you employ a proven professional for installation, but here are some brief guidelines that you can consider for internal installation.

On receipt of your order

When you receive your order, check that you have all of your tiles and that they are in good condition as any discrepancies cannot be resolved after installation.

A few recommendations

Please note: These are very general guidelines and not definitive instructions. The issuer of these guidelines cannot be held responsible for installation. It is always recommended that a qualified and professional tiler should take responsibility for the installation of all stone and tile products.

- Prior to installation you should store your tiles in a dry place.
- Do not install tiles during very hot weather.
- Avoid direct sunlight on to the tiles during installation (prior to sealing the tiles).
- Never use acids or undiluted alkaline solutions to clean tiles.
- If cleaning between each process is required use a pH neutral cleaner such as our STONE ESSENTIALS All Clean.
- Always ensure that surfaces are properly sealed before grouting.
- Use mats at entrance/exit areas where grit may enter the house.
- Do not cover newly installed surfaces with non-breathable membranes such as self-adhesive plastic sheeting, Correx or plywood sheets. If surfaces need to be covered after installation, use a good-quality decorator's sheet or a thin specialist protective card instead.

Prior to installation

Both sides of the tile should be wiped clean of any dust before installation and the top surface should be wiped again after installation and before grouting takes place. You must create a flat, level and stable surface – preferably of concrete – on to which the tiles can be laid. If you do this on a timber surface, the floor will need overlaying with a suitable tile backerboard such as NoMorePly (www.nomoreply.net). You can also use this product to tile on to timber-framed walls. If you are tiling on to walls in wet areas, we recommend you fully tank (waterproof) the walls with a specific tanking system such as Schülter tanking system or similar.

If you are tiling on to an underfloor, heated screed the floor will need priming and overlaying with a movement decoupling membrane such as our STONE ESSENTIALS Isomat or Schluter - Ditra. This will help prevent any shrinkage or cracking that may occur in the screed being transferred through to the tiles.

The tiles can be cut using a diamond blade – ideally a water-cooled machine. Some glass and ceramic tiles can be cut with a scribe and break type cutter. If you are using an angle grinder, constantly spraying with water while cutting will help to prevent chipped edges.

Installation

Use a good-quality, flexible, white, tile-adhesive and carefully follow any instructions on the manufacturer's label. Ensure 100% coverage of each tile with adhesive, and remove excess adhesive with a damp cloth before it hardens. Level the tiles using hand pressure only. Using a mallet or rubber hammer could cause cracking.

Preparing your tile surface before sealing and grouting

(natural stone, encaustic, terrazzo and terracotta)

Clean and condition the surface using a diluted solution of alkaline cleaner such as STONE ESSENTIALS Deep Clean (diluted 1:10 with water). This will help ensure that any dust, dirt and grime that may have accumulated during the installation process is removed. A properly cleaned and prepared surface will improve the efficiency of the sealer.

Sealing your tiles, if required

(natural stone, encaustic, terrazzo, crackle glaze and terracotta)

Once your tiles are installed you will need to use an impregnating sealant for protection against fading and staining, such as STONE ESSENTIALS Stain Block (or for crackle glaze tiles a crackle glaze sealant). This should be applied after they have been installed (and cleaned using STONE ESSENTIALS Deep Clean or similar) but prior to grouting, in accordance with the product label. You should apply a second coat after grouting. You could also choose to apply a surface finish (normally to more rustic products) such as STONE ESSENTIALS Stone Shield or Wax polish as this will offer further protection and give an attractive patina, although in non-wet areas only. This would be applied after grouting once fully dry (around seven days depending on humidity).

Please refer to our guide throughout this directory for recommendations on sealing products.

Grouting

- We recommend using lighter coloured grouts for most products in particular natural stone, encaustic and terrazzo tiles, rather than black or bright coloured as these can cause staining in the natural pores of the tiles.

- Ensure you have selected a grout product that is suitable for use with the chosen tile material and desired joint width.
- Don't use masking tape on the tiles as this can cause marking.
- Ensure that you wipe away any excess grout from the tiles before the grout dries.
- Once grout is installed and fully dried, wash your new tile floor with a neutral detergent such as STONE ESSENTIALS All Clean.
- Do not leave water to sit on the surface.
- Follow the grout manufacturer's installations carefully.

Finishing after grouting, if required

(natural stone, encaustic, terrazzo and terracotta)

Natural finish: Apply a final coat of impregnating sealer making sure to cover the grout joints as well.

OR

Satin finish: Further to the above you can also choose to apply a surface wax such as STONE ESSENTIALS Stone Shield or STONE ESSENTIALS Wax Polish. This will offer further protection and give an attractive patina (cement tiles, rustic tumbled stones and some matt porcelains in non-wet areas only). For crackle glaze apply a second coat of crackle glaze sealant.

Maintenance

As long as you select the right type of tile for the job and your lifestyle, caring for your floors and walls doesn't have to be a chore. Here are a few essential steps.

Firstly, keep floors as free as possible of loose dust and grit with regular vacuuming or sweeping. This will greatly reduce the 'sandpaper' effect of dirt getting compacted into the surface and joints. Then, we recommend washing the floor – firstly, to remove the dirt that a vacuum won't pick up, and secondly for hygiene.

We strongly recommend that you use specialist cleaning products. The harsh, acidic supermarket products will 'bruise' your tiles and erode protective sealants. Ideally, use a product that is PH neutral, bio-degradable and environmentally friendly. We recommend our STONE ESSENTIALS All Clean product.

Using the correct specialist cleaning product will greatly reduce the frequency of more intensive cleans and reseals.

General wear of the surface from foot traffic over the years exposes capillaries, or tiny cracks. Over time these can accumulate dirt and grime. Therefore, we recommend a more intensive clean every 3-4 years, with a heavy-duty product that will dissolve ingrained dirt and grease.

A common misconception is that every natural stone floor needs resealing every few years, but it is true for the more porous stones. You can normally tell if a stone does need resealing by wetting the stone and leaving for around five minutes before wiping off. If the water leaves a mark by darkening the stone this will mean the stone is becoming more porous. If you do decide to reseal your stone, you should first give it an intensive clean with a product that penetrates the surface. You may, however, decide your floor doesn't need resealing but could do with being refreshed. Applying a surface refreshing product every 4-6 weeks will help with this.

We strongly recommend you do not use bleach-based cleaners, washing-up liquids, strong degreasing detergents, or anything that contains natural acids or alkaline. Avoid non-specialised supermarket cleaning products. Avoid using steam cleaners – they may clean some surfaces, but the hot steam can remove the sealer and repeated use will 'spall' and damage the surface.

A recommended regime with STONE ESSENTIALS ancillaries

Our STONE ESSENTIALS range covers all the bases for a cleaning and maintenance regime that will maintain your tile floor in excellent condition.

Routine cleaning

All Clean is the STONE ESSENTIALS product for your routine cleaning. It's suitable to use as an antibacterial detergent and can be used weekly or even daily as long as you dilute it as per the instructions on the bottle.

Intensive and spot cleaning

For a really deep clean, we recommend STONE ESSENTIALS Deep Clean, heavy-duty cleaner which uses a combination of effective solvents and cleaning agents to dissolve ingrained dirt, grease, heavy soiling and many other problematic stains. The less you dilute it, the stronger the solution – but you must carefully follow the instructions on the bottle.

Paving Installation

These are brief guidelines for working with natural stones and man-made paving. This general guidance does not imply any guarantee by Ca' Pietra. We always recommend that a qualified and professional installer should take responsibility for the specification and installation of all stone and tile products.

Current and appropriate industry standards and codes of practice should be observed in all instances.

However, if you do decide to install the stone or tiles yourself, we strongly recommend that you do plenty of research into materials and methods, and seek the best advice on how to carry out the installation.

1. When you take delivery of your order

Check that you have all your slabs and that they're in good condition. Remember, with natural or handcrafted products there will always be some variations in colour tone, veining, surface texture and natural characteristics.

Tip: Keep the tiles on a level, stable surface, stored vertically to avoid any risk of cracking.

2. Before you install

Tips:

- Wipe both sides of the tile clean with a sponge and clean water before installation to remove dust. This will ensure good adhesion.
- Don't install slabs in freezing or cold conditions.
- Give yourself a dry run by laying your slabs or tiles as they will eventually be laid. This enables you to check you have the correct number and size of slabs and colour blending.
- When installing a flagstone, it is important to ensure it is laid the right way up (one way to identify the top, is to look at the sides of the slab - which usually taper inwards, so that the top is slightly wider than the underside). If in doubt it's always best to ask a stone expert.

- With natural stones, randomly select and mix tiles from the different boxes or crates you receive to ensure a tonal blend across the entirety of the new surface and avoid any colour banding.

3. General preparation

The golden rule is: tiles must always be 'solid bedded' - in other words, avoid any cavities underneath the material.

The bed should support the full slab, not just the corners or in dots/dabs. Do not 'spot' bed as this can cause 'through bed staining' and will weaken the integrity of the paving. (Please note that precise standards, falls, bed thicknesses and other specifications may vary dependent on the actual application. You should always refer to appropriate and current standards and codes of practice.)

Cutting tiles

Tiles can be cut using a diamond tipped blade - ideally a water-cooled machine for the cleanest cutting. There are different blades for natural stone and for porcelain so it's important to have the correct one.

Levelling your tiles

Thin tiles (up to 1cm) should be levelled using hand pressure only. A rubber mallet hammer can be used for thicker, more robust slabs.

4. Substrate preparation and installing the tiles

There are several different methods of installation for external paving. The two most common methods are:

Option 1

If the external works are a continuation of the internal tiling - lay a structural concrete screed, to the appropriate current standards, with the required sub-base.

Ensure that adequate falls, cross falls and intersections are accurately created in the screed to fine tolerances, for good levels of drainage. The tiles can then be installed using a flexible thick-bed floor tile adhesive (suitable for external use) following the same tiling standards as internal flooring.

A 10mm notched trowel will provide a 5mm finished adhesive-bed thickness. Leave 6mm wide expansion joints in accordance with current BSEN requirements and at changes of plane. You should fill these joints with exterior grade mastic, matched to the grout/joint colouration.

Option 2

If you are laying external works as 'slab paving' rather than tiling - the appropriate sub-base should be laid and well compacted. For good stability this is usually an even 10cm-thick, compacted layer of type 1 granular aggregate (40mm to dust). For most domestic applications a sub-base of 10cm should be sufficient. However, the paving design must be based on ground conditions as well as type and frequency of anticipated loads.

As previously described, falls, cross-falls and intersections must be carefully formed. You should incorporate a minimum fall of 1.25% (1 in 80) and crossfall of 2.5% (1 in 40) in the sub-layer construction to provide adequate surface-water run-off.

Use a ratio between 4:1 and 6:1 of sharp sand, cement and plasticiser (to BSEN requirements). Prepare a base of mortar beneath the slabs - normally around 30-50mm thick.
