(a) Scope of Use. Authorized Users may use the Services solely for Customer's internal business purposes. Customer will not sell, lease, license, transfer, provide or otherwise make available the Services or any portion thereof to any third party, whether as a demonstration or otherwise. Customer acknowledges and agrees that Olympia will not have any obligation to provide any Service, or any replacement therefor, after such time that Olympia has ceased providing such Service to its customers.

(b) Counterparty Risk. Customer agrees to proceed solely against its counterparty to collect or recover any amounts owed to it or to enforce any of its rights in connection with or as a result of any transaction facilitated by the Services.

(c) Authorized Users. Customer will communicate, in writing, the names of all persons who will be permitted to use the Services ("Authorized Users") on behalf of the Customer, and such use of the Services will be subject to all of the limitations and obligations of Customer hereunder, and Customer will at all times be responsible for the use of the Services by its Authorized Users and the compliance by such Authorized Users with the terms of the Agreement, including that any transaction effected through the Services by an Authorized User will be enforceable against Customer. Customer will familiarize all of its Authorized Users with its obligations hereunder. Upon becoming aware of any improper access to or use of the Services by any Authorized User, Customer will promptly notify Olympia thereof, and will, as promptly as reasonably possible, take immediate actions to terminate such Authorized User's authorization to access or use the Services. Any use of the Services through use of User Identifications and Access Codes will be deemed to be use by an Authorized User and Olympia will have no responsibility for putting in place additional authentication protocols for purposes of determining the identity of any user who is making use of a User Identification and Access Code.

(d) Security.

(i) Olympia will assign to each Authorized User a unique user identification ("User Identification") and a corresponding access code ("Access Code"). Customer is responsible for the confidentiality and use of the Access Codes, and Customer will not permit any person other than an Authorized User to access or use Services on its behalf. Customer will maintain adequate procedures to monitor for unauthorized access to, or use of, any of its Access Codes, and will immediately notify Olympia of any unauthorized access to, or use of, any of its Access Codes.

(ii) Customer acknowledges and agrees that Customer and its Authorized Users may access or use the Services through the Internet and that such connection is not necessarily secure and Olympia does not warrant that such connections and methods of access are secure. Customer will be responsible for ensuring the security of Customer's and its Authorized Users' access to or use of the Services.

(e) Customer's Responsibility for Orders. Customer will be bound by any instructions, bids, offers, or other trading orders placed through or facilitated by the Services, that are accompanied by a valid User Identification and a valid Access Code assigned to Customer or to one of its Authorized Users (collectively, "Orders" and individually, an "Order"). Olympia will have no duty to verify whether any such Order, whether sent by an Authorized User or otherwise, has been authorized by Customer. Customer will be deemed to have given an Order to Olympia when Olympia receives such Order through the Services (whether or not Customer receives, or actually becomes aware of, any acknowledgment of such Order). Olympia may act on such Orders and any resulting trades or transactions, and other related rights and obligations, will be binding on Customer. Customer acknowledges that regulatory requirements imposed by Governmental or Regulatory Authorities may require that Orders submitted by Customer be conveyed to other marketplaces for execution or may be executed against orders conveyed to Olympia by other marketplaces.

(f) Electronic Communications. Any electronic communication, including instructions, Orders, and other communications that Olympia receives, from or in the name of Customer, including any electronic communication accompanied by a valid User Identification and a valid Access Code assigned to Customer or to one of its Authorized Users, will be considered to be duly authorized and binding upon Customer, and Olympia is authorized to rely and act upon any such communication regardless of any notice (implied or otherwise) that Olympia may have received. Customer agrees that any electronic communication will be deemed to constitute a “writing” for the purposes of any statute or rule of law that requires the terms of such communication to be in writing and expressly waives any right to raise any defence or waiver of liability based on the absence of a writing. As a condition for using any Service, Customer accepts and agrees that its use of such Service will be subject to legends, disclaimers and other disclosures set forth on such Service.

(g) Customer’s Responsibility for Records. To the extent required by law, as between Olympia and Customer, Customer will be solely responsible for maintaining its own records of transactions facilitated by the Services.

(h) Olympia’s Control of the Services. Olympia will have sole and complete control over, and reserves the right at any time to make changes to the functionality, configuration, appearance, or Content of the Services, including controlling, changing, or restricting: (i) the selection of or access to Services made available; and (ii) the parameters, processes, and requirements by which Orders are placed, routed or otherwise facilitated by the Services. Olympia may provide all or any part of the Services through a branch or an agency or through a Olympia affiliate. For the purposes of the Agreement and these Terms of Use, the term “Olympia” includes such branches, agencies and affiliates.

(i) Olympia’s Right to Control Use. Customer’s and Authorized Users’ access to and use of the Services may be subject to suspensions, restrictions, or limitations imposed by Olympia at Olympia’s sole discretion, including, but not limited to, limits on the aggregate dollar volume of trading transactions per day and limits on markets and instruments available for trading, whether due to market conditions or closings, technical considerations, restrictions on the offer or sale of particular securities, or otherwise. Customer acknowledges and agrees that: (i) it will be a material breach of the Agreement to evade, or attempt to evade, any such suspension, restriction or limitation; and (ii) Customer will not rely on Olympia to implement any such suspension, restriction or limitation for Customer’s protection or benefit.

(j) Unauthorized Use and Access. Except in accordance with this Agreement, Customer will not frame, mirror, scrape or data-mine the Services or any Content in any form or by any means. Neither Customer nor any Authorized User will attempt to access any restricted areas of the Services or Olympia’s systems or attempt to perform any functions that are not authorized under this Agreement.

(k) Olympia’s Right to Cease Service. Olympia reserves the right at any time, in its sole discretion: (i) to discontinue transmitting any information; (ii) to designate certain information as only being indicative (subject to offerings); (iii) to temporarily or permanently suspend or restrict the access of Customer or an Authorized User, as the case may be, to any Service; (iv) to refuse to post or suspend any particular Order through a Service; and (v) to refuse to facilitate any or all transactions, in each case including, but not limited to, for reasons relating to the following: market conditions; the quality or quantity of inventory contributed by Customer (including, but not limited to, posting of inventory that is not realistically likely to result in execution of transactions); failure by Customer or an Authorized User to post bids and offers or solicitations for bids and offers that are reasonably related to market prices; the offer or sale of securities in violation of the registration requirements under Applicable Laws; other business or financial considerations as may be determined by Olympia in the exercise of its sole discretion; technical conditions; and/or court or government order.

(l) Third Party Links. The Services may contain links to third party websites, services, or content that are not owned or controlled by Olympia. Olympia has no control over, and assumes no responsibility for, the content or practices of any such third party websites, services or content. The existence of such a link in the Services does not constitute a recommendation or other approval by Olympia of any third party websites, services, or content and any opinions or recommendations expressed in such third party websites, services, or content are those of the relevant third party provider and are not the opinions or recommendations of Olympia.

(m) Compliance with Laws. Customer acknowledges that its access to and use of any Service may be restricted or limited as a result of Applicable Laws. Customer undertakes to familiarize itself, keep current with and comply with Applicable Laws.

(n) Disclosure of Customer Information. Subject to Applicable Laws, Customer will supply Olympia with all information requested by Olympia concerning Customer and its access to and use of the Services which is reasonably deemed by Olympia to be necessary in connection with Olympia's obligations under Applicable Laws and Customer understands and agrees that Olympia may report such information to exchanges, trade repositories, and Governmental or Regulatory Authorities as Olympia determines in its sole discretion to be necessary.

(o) Use of Services. Customer acknowledges that it is responsible for arranging access to the internet and for any communication costs associated therewith and for any actions or omissions of the internet service provider. Customer acknowledges that any of the Services may be unavailable from time to time due to maintenance or unanticipated circumstances. Olympia is not responsible in any manner for direct, indirect, special or consequential damages, however caused, arising out of Customer's use of any web browser and any Service, including any damages Customer may suffer if Customer transmits confidential or sensitive information to Olympia or if Olympia communicates such information to Customer at its request over the internet.

4. Intellectual Property. As between Customer and Olympia, exclusive ownership of, and title to, all copyrights, trademarks, service marks, patent rights, trade secrets and all other proprietary and/or intellectual property rights in and relating to the Services and the Application Software, or any financial or other content therein (the "Content"), including, but not limited to, prices and volumes of bids and offers and all other trading data (together, the "Trading Data") generated by or in connection with the Services, including, but not limited to Customer's access thereto and use thereof (collectively, "Olympia IP") will remain with, and vesting, Olympia. Nothing in this Agreement will be deemed to convey any right, title or interest in the Olympia IP to Customer.

5. Personal Information. Olympia collects, uses and discloses personal information in accordance with Olympia's privacy policy, available at <http://www.olympiatrust.com>, as may be amended from time to time by Olympia in its discretion. By accepting the Agreement, and each time Customer uses a Service, Customer consents to the collection, use and disclosure of personal information by Olympia in accordance with the privacy policy as it then reads.

6. Application Software. Customer may be required to download and install a software application in order to access or use PayFX (the "Application Software"). Upon downloading of the Application Software, Olympia grants to Customer a full paid-up, revocable, non-exclusive limited license to use the Application Software solely for the purposes of using PayFX for Customer's business purposes. Customer will not in any way reverse engineer, decompile or disassemble the Application Software. The provision of access to and the functioning of the Application Software will be considered to be a Service for purposes of the Agreement.
