

Costpoint Planning Module

Eliminating paper processes and integrating systems is the starting point to efficiently managing projects. However, innovative government contractors also expect their project management budgeting and forecasting software to help manage contractual requirements, risk and resources, to include subcontractors, all while automatically keeping the ledger current with costs on both project and organizational levels.

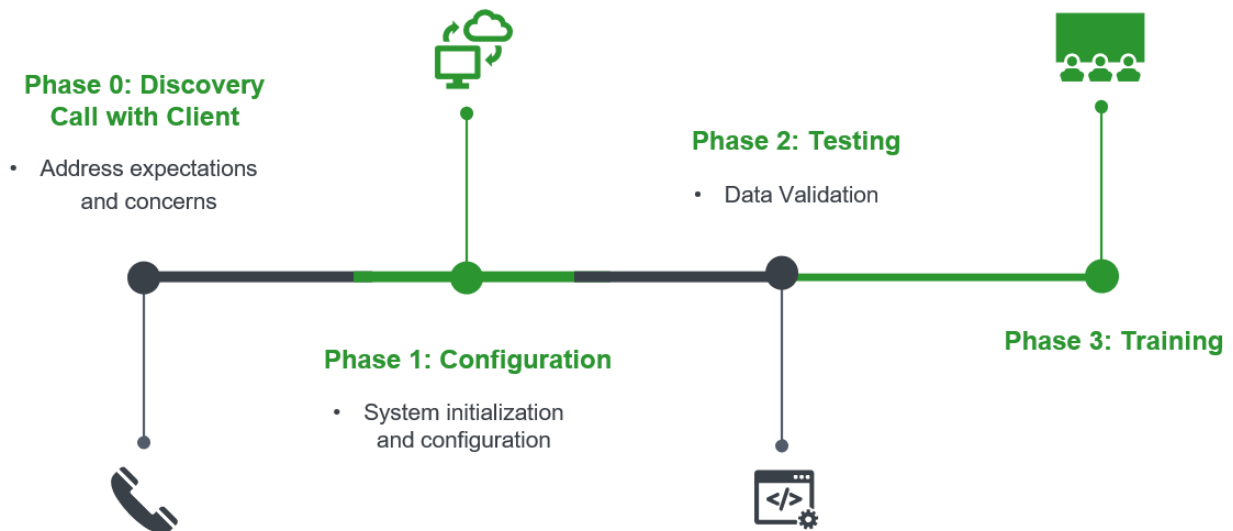

Benefits Include:

Integrated Project Management & Accounting – Bid, plan, budget, report, and bill, all in one system with real-time project visibility.

Project Costing for Government Contracts – Create bid and proposal costing and easily convert to project baseline budgets.

Government Contractor Resource Planning – Monitor project resources using real-time costs for effective resource management.

PCI's Planning Module Implementation includes:
