

Boston March 5. 1831

Dear Sir,

Since you spoke to me relative to a list of Agricultural and Horticultural authors, books &c. I have, besides my usual avocations, been employed in looking for a place of residence in Boston and removing from Charlestown &c; and a man in search of a home is almost as sedulously and anxiously engaged as a bachelor in search of a wife. I have, however, set down a few, and hope hereafter to make the list more complete.

With sentiments of esteem

your obliged humble servant,

Thos G. Peckenden.

Gen. H. A. S. Dearborn.
