INTEGRATED SOLUTIONS FOR CULTURAL PROPERTIES

Installing security at Cultural Properties requires a balance of architecture and aesthetics with necessary protection. Not all integrators have that capability. Nationwide Security Corporation is proud to have mastered this specific high level of security. Openly displaying art, artifacts and documents, in addition to basement archives and storage, demands state-of-the-art security solutions. We have helped secure many Cultural Property facilities throughout the Country, each with a very different set of security challenges. Many landmark buildings undergo frequent renovations and construction that puts them at greater risk. Others have off-site locations that house collections not on view. Many of the security devices that we use to secure art and other property in a cultural institution are specifically designed for that location.

Many Cultural Property organizations don't have every in-house security expertise sometimes required. Nationwide Security Corporation can provide client specific consulting services anywhere in the country including Security Program Development, Risk Assessments, Asset & Collection Protection, Security Policies & Procedures, and Workplace Violence Training.
