

Business Resilience

Identify Gaps. Reduce Risks. Succeed.

Technology Procurement & Implementation Made Easy

With a combination of technical advisory expertise and our ability to quickly source products in areas ranging from Endpoint Detection & Response (EDR) and Multifactor Authentication (MFA) to Privileged Access Management (PAM) and protected backups, MOXFIVE can be your “easy button” when it comes to building more resilient operations.

The growing complexity of IT systems has increasingly outpaced the supply of qualified service professionals needed to build, customize, and manage them. Many organizations are realizing that not only do they need a more robust group of technical service providers to support their ad hoc projects, day-to-day operations, and future business needs – they also need someone who can help manage and streamline the selection and implementation process.

MOXFIVE can help. Our Technical Advisors are on the front lines of hundreds of cybersecurity incidents every day. We make recommendations based on this experience - not vendor incentives - and understand that one size does not fit all.

We consider the structure of your business and IT operations, the needs of diverse user populations, and the organization’s overall maturity across key cyber resilience dimensions. Our approach starts with understanding your big-picture objectives, near-term needs, and current environment to deliver the right solutions for your organization.

Working with MOXFIVE Technical Advisors provides the following benefits:

Access to Experts at Scale

MOXFIVE helps cut through the noise by providing you direct access to vendor technical resources and streamlining the sales process. MOXFIVE can quickly assemble the right experts or technologies based on what your organization needs.

Faster Procurement

MOXFIVE maintains contractual relationships with our partner ecosystem so clients can leverage their existing master service agreements to facilitate a faster and more efficient procurement process.

Smoother Implementation

MOXFIVE Technical Advisors can help manage the implementation process to keep projects on schedule and minimize disruption to day-to-day activities.

Resilient Outcomes

MOXFIVE provides advisory and implementation services to address the business process and technology requirements needed to build resilient security operations.
