

Cheeky Fox Retreat, located in the beautiful Kinglake Ranges, offers a private, inspiring country location to work and relax for teams of up to 12 people. Situated on 50 acres with spectacular mountain views, the property is perfect for a business meeting, planning session or team off-site.

Featuring both a meeting space and boutique accommodation all under one roof, the Retreat is a large six-bedroom house with facilities designed to suit the needs of executives. Outside, guests have exclusive access to a swimming pool with stunning views, the house grounds and over 2 kilometres of private bush tracks to explore.

The property can be booked for day sessions or overnight retreats from Tuesday to Thursday and on a 'do-it-yourself' basis or including event coordination, transport from/to your office, in-house catering and team building activities.
