LEGACYARMOUR

What Is Legacy Planning?

Legacy planning is the act of determining how you will leave your property, assets and information to your loved ones. It's the process of ensuring your family has access to your financial, legal, healthcare and personal information when they need it most.

The Importance of Leaving a Legacy

Perhaps you haven't thought about legacy planning yet, or maybe the process seems too overwhelming. But it's never too early to make sure all of your assets are in order, your wishes are documented and your family's future is protected.

Using LegacyArmour's digital legacy planning platform, you can easily centralize and secure your most valuable assets until they're delivered according to your specifications.

Peace of Mind Doesn't Come in a Box

If you've already purchased a physical vault or firebox for your important documents, you may think that's enough. But consider the limitations of a physical vault compared with the powerful security and accessibility benefits of a digital solution.

- ✘ With no organization or categorization within a physical vault, it's easy to lose track of what's protected and what isn't.
- ✘ Physical vaults can be so cluttered with paperwork that it's unmanageable for family members to find what they need.
- ✘ You can't store digital assets, like social media accounts or videos, within a physical vault.
- ✘ Physical vaults can be lost, damaged in a fire or flood, or stolen.
- ✘ Your beneficiaries may not know where your physical vault is, or how to open it when they need access.
- ✔ A digital legacy planning checklist helps surface exactly which assets are already secured and which documents are missing.
- ✔ Digital vaults can be organized by asset type and delivered separately to the individual recipients you choose.
- ✔ Digital vaults are built to store all assets, including scanned documents, virtual accounts and video files.
- ✔ Secure passphrases and encryption capabilities protect your information in digital vaults, and it's always accessible to you in the cloud.
- ✔ Digital vaults can be delivered to your beneficiaries according to your instructions, so they never have to search for answers.

Protect Their Future With Top-Level Security

Not all digital vaults are created equal. Even legacy planning companies that claim to offer military-grade security often leave valuable information vulnerable to hackers and data breaches.

LegacyArmour's advanced security features were designed and implemented by certified cybersecurity professionals to ensure your assets are fully protected until delivery.

- Zero-Knowledge Encryption: Your information is encrypted before upload, so hackers can't intercept your files.
- Four Separate Vaults: You have access to four vaults, each encrypted with a unique passphrase that only you and your recipients know.
- Designated Delegates and Recipients: Each vault can have two recipients, as well as two trusted delegates to manage the vault's content before delivery.

Your trusted advisor can act as a delegate, helping you make sure your most valuable information is organized, secured and kept up to date.

Life Monitoring Makes Sure They Have Answers When They Need Them

After you designate your delivery timeline, LegacyArmour's AI engine monitors your digital presence to ensure your loved ones have access to your information right when they need it.

- Custom Delivery Options: Designate the delivery of your vaults to your recipients based on date, death, incapacitation or another parameter.
- AI Monitoring: A powerful AI engine monitors digital activity for signs of incapacitation, then delivers your information according to your wishes.
- Live Outreach: After a preset amount of unresponsive time, LegacyArmour will reach out personally to determine if your vaults should be delivered.
