

Weingarten Realty Achieves Early Go-Live with Denovo as their Cloud Hosting and Managed Services Partner

BOULDER, CO | December 5, 2018

Denovo is pleased to announce the addition of Weingarten Realty Investors to its family of JD Edwards Managed Cloud Services customers.

Weingarten Realty Investors chose Denovo Ventures as their trusted business partner after an evaluation of their current hosting provider. The two companies completed contracts for a bundled solution that includes Cloud Hosting, JD Edwards Managed Services and Denovo's Quick Calculators software solution for real estate companies.

Weingarten was looking for a partner that could successfully host their JD Edwards environment and provide a level of managed services support that would allow them to focus on their business. Speaking with Denovo's references confirmed that this would be the right fit. Another compelling factor to the decision was Denovo's Quick Calculators solution for Real Estate companies.

The project was scheduled for an early January go-live. Due to issues with their current provider, Denovo and Weingarten worked together to achieve a successful go-live a full month early.
